NO. 198—SIXTY-SIXTH YEAR VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, WEDNESDAY, JULY 30, 1924 SIXTEEN PAGES

Colonial Secretary Explains Empire Delegates' Affair

Telegram Sent to All Overseas Dominions in Connection With Interallied Conference Pointed Out Difficulties of Great Britain's Position With Respect to Foreign Policies and Invited Views

ALL ACCEPTED OUTLINE WITH EXCEPTION OF CANADA

LONDON, July 29.—The British Government has determined to alter the entire system of Dominion representation, the Secretary for the Colonies declared today in the House of Commons during the discussion on the vote for the Colonial Office. Mr. Thomas said the system of Dominion representation at the present Interallied Conference was not satisfactory and that the government had decided to invite the Dominions to send representatives to a conference which will examine the entire situation and avoid the difficulties hitherto encountered. It is hoped the conference may be held in October.

Speaking previously at the South African Club, Mr. Thomas said that the sacrifices made by the dominions in the war compelled recognition of the fact that in all issues of peace or war the dominions should be consulted.

"Nothing has been more painful to me," Mr. Thomas said, "than the announcements of disagreement and differences between our dominions and ourselves a few weeks ago when we were discussing the question of representation by the British Empire at the Interallied conference, because the enemies of the British Empire would try to take advantage of those differences for their own purposes.

"Therefore, speaking quite officially, not only as Secretary of State for the Colonies, but on behalf of His Majesty's Government, I can only say to you and to the world at large that we are determined to straighten these things out and are determined to bring about a conference of all the dominions, where we will sit around the table and drag these things out as friends, freely and frankly."

Question Raised

When the colonial vote came up in the House tonight, Right Hon. L. C. Amery, former First Lord of the Admiralty, raised the question of representation of the Dominions in deciding on the British Empire's foreign policy at international conferences. He thought it was a little unfortunate that this question of representation for the Dominions should have arisen in connection with the present Interallied Conference so soon after the Lausanne Treaty incident. The make-shift arrangement arrived at the last moment was unsatisfactory, he added, because of the panel system adopted. The representation should be on a footing of equality. The spirit of equality and the status between nations and the Empire were being violated if the United Kingdom had a representative continuously at the conference and Dominions had only partial representation through the panel.

"We ought to make it clear to the rest of the world," asserted Mr.

EX-SERVICE MEN TO TAKE LEGAL ACTION

SEEK TO COMPEL PENSIONS COMMISSIONER TO ACT

Endeavor to Be Made to Have Rulings of Federal Appeal Board Recognized by Body

VANCOUVER, July 29.—Application for a mandamus or other legal proceedings will be started by ex-soldier organizations and soldier advisors in Canada, working in concert to compel the Board of Pension Commissioners to recognize rulings made by the Federal Appeal Board, according to Captain Ian Mackenzie, M.P.P., soldier advisor in the city. The Board of Pension Commissioners claims to have discovered a technicality in regulations granting power to the Federal Appeal Board, he says, and are refusing to carry out the latter's findings.

The threatened action, he points out, has arisen from the deadlock resulting in the refusal of the Senate to pass regulations to give the Appeal Board necessary powers. There are at the moment three local cases which come under the regulation.

Unidentified Body Found In Vancouver Harbor

VANCOUVER, July 29.—The body of an unidentified man, aged about 60, was found this afternoon floating among the piling beneath the G.T.P. dock. From the condition of the body it was thought by the police that he was drowned Monday night. A watch in his pocket had stopped at 9:30. The body is described as being about five feet seven inches in height and of stocky build, grey hair and moustache.

British Cabinet Seeks To Check Bootlegging

LONDON, July 29.—The possibility of taking measures to put a stop to sending from the United Kingdom liquor which ultimately reached the United States, was still under consideration, Arthur Ponsonby, Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, told a questioner in the House today. The difficulty was, he said, to frame measures which would not hurt legitimate trade.

Caught in Weeds and Drowns

HAMILTON, July 29.—Caught by weeds, Dennis Gill, 23, a third-year dental student, was drowned in the bay in ten feet of water yesterday afternoon.

ANTICIPATE RISE IN BREAD PRICES

INCREASE IN FLOUR FIGURES MAKE ADVANCE NECESSARY

Big and Small Bakers in City Expected to Act—New Price of Bread Likely 10 Cents a Loaf

While Victoria bakers met yesterday and decided that for the present there wouldn't be any advance in bread prices, it is anticipated that within the next twenty-four hours an increase in the price of bread in this city will take place.

As a result of another twenty-cent rise in the cost of flour, announced by the millers, it is expected that within a very short time bread consumers in Victoria will be paying ten cents for an eighteen-ounce loaf of bread, instead of the present cost, namely, nine cents per loaf, or three loaves for twenty-five cents.

The increase in the price of flour which occurred yesterday is the fifth twenty-cent jump flour has taken since July 14. This means that flour has gone up $1.70 per barrel since the advance in wheat started on June 10, thereby making the retail price of flour now $2.40 a sack of forty-nine pounds.

That the bakers would act together in any action that might be

MR. J. A. CATHERWOOD CONFIRMED IN SEAT

Judicial Recount of Poll in Dewdney Gives Conservative Candidate Four More Votes

NEW WESTMINSTER, July 29.—J. A. Catherwood, Conservative member for Dewdney in the last Legislature, and a candidate against Maxwell Smith, Liberal, in the recent election, was declared the winner by thirteen votes on a judicial recount taken by Judge F. W. Howay in County Court today.

The recount was requested by the Liberals on account of certain ballot envelopes not bearing the signature of the returning officer. To the surprise of Maxwell Smith, and also J. W. DeB. Farris, who acted as legal counsel for the Liberals, the ballots, when counted, gave a gain to Mr. Catherwood, whose majority was only nine according to the returning officer's figures.

WINES PREFERRED TO HARD LIQUORS

Demand for Lighter Beverages in Quebec Increase While Whisky Consumption Declines

QUEBEC, July 29.—An interesting feature recorded in the annual report of the Quebec Liquor Commission, which is now being prepared, is that the attraction for wines instead of hard liquor, which was noticed last year, is greater than ever, and that with the two last years of operations the sales of wines has increased six hundred per cent, and the sale of high percentage liquors proportionately decreased.

The commission is planning further extension of the wine business through the establishment of wine stores in preference to general liquor stores at all points possible.

C.N.R. PRESIDENT ASKS FAIR PLAY

Sir Henry Thornton Guest of Honor at Luncheon Tendered by Canadian Club at Vancouver

REFERS TO CHARGES IN SENATE AS TO OFFICERS

If Crow's Nest Rates Mean Reduction All Round, Position of Lines Is Serious, He Says

VANCOUVER, July 29.—Speaking here today at a luncheon tendered in his honor by the Canadian Club and the Board of Trade, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, declared that it was a comparatively easy matter to keep politics out of the purchasing and other departments of the railway, but it was most difficult to meet unfair criticism made for political prestige.

"The time should come," he continued, "when the political parties should feel that they have a direct interest in the railway of the people. The railways belong to no political party, and one way to keep the railway from being used in politics is to give proper representation to all political parties, with men of outstanding business ability representing each political group."

Sir Henry told his hearers that serious consequences might result from the establishment of the railway freight rates under the Crow's Nest agreement, should this mean a general reduction of freight rates throughout Canada.

"If the restoration of the Crow's Nest agreement means a new and lower scale of freight rates throughout Canada, then I can say that the position of the two great railway systems will be serious," he said.

Sir Henry made a stirring plea for a united Canada. "There should be no East or West in Canada," said he. "There should not be any feeling as between East and West. Each is essential to the other, but sectionalism seems bound to exist in any new country such as this.

"Sectionalism will exist in any new country until the crevasses are filled with population," he went on. "We in Canada are too poor and too few to fight. Our motto should be 'One for all and all for one.'"

The False Creek Fill

That the Canadian National Railway will meet all its obligations in Vancouver in regard to the False Creek improvements was made clear by Sir Henry. The completion of the False Creek fill will run into approximately one million dollars and the work will be carried out just as quickly as economic conditions will permit, the president said.

"We are just as anxious to fulfill our obligations in Vancouver as the citizens of Vancouver are anxious to have us do so," Sir Henry stated, "and the False Creek work will be carried to conclusion as rapidly as financial conditions will permit."

The Canadian National president declared that he saw no reason to change his opinion, formed on his first visit to Vancouver, namely, that this port was destined to become the greatest on the Pacific Coast.

Answers Senator Taylor

Sir Henry was quite frank in discussing the charges against the officers of his company made at Ottawa by Senator J. D. Taylor, of New Westminster.

"When these charges were made, I took immediate steps to secure the most complete information from British Columbia," he said. "I secured this from more than one channel and from investigators in whom I had the utmost confidence. I have no desire to bolster up officials of the road with whom complaint may justly be found, but at the same time if the Canadian National is to have loyal, efficient service from its employees, it must stand behind its officers and men when it is of the opinion that they are working for the best interests of the company. This I propose to do and until it is proven that the men in British Columbia are incompetent or have done wrong, they have the utmost support of the company."

SETTLES STATUS OF HIGH COMMISSIONER

Colonial Secretary Informs House of Arrangements as to Precedence of Dominions' Officials

LONDON, July 29.—The question of the status of the High Commissioner for the Dominions and India in London has at last been settled, after a long period of doubt thereon.

The Colonial Secretary announced in the House today that henceforth on ceremonial occasions the High Commissioners will take precedence after the members of the Cabinets of the British, Dominion and Indian Governments. When no member of the Imperial Cabinet or cabinets of the Dominions or India are present, the High Commissioners will take precedence after that accorded to the Secretaries of State by the table of precedence, Mr. Thomas stated.

The question of the status of the Dominion High Commissioners has come up frequently of late years, and the late Baldwin Government interested itself in the problem shortly before its retirement, and asked the High Commissioners themselves for their views on it. However, the question was left as a legacy to the MacDonald Government, which has settled it as announced by the Colonial Secretary today.

Sixty Believed Perished When Motorship Burns

MANILA, July 30.—Sixty natives are believed to have perished when the motorship Agusan burned off the coast of Camiguin Island, in the Sea of Mindanao, said a telegram received here today from the commander of the constabulary in Misamis.

The telegram stated that the island steamer Antonio Cosim rescued about sixty persons from the burning vessel. The Agusan is a wooden steamer of 195 tons, built in Port Ludlow, in 1879, and owned by the Agusan Cocoanut Company. She plied between the southern islands of the Philippines.

VANCOUVER, July 29.—Major Stuart MacLaren, British flier who is now crossing the Northern Pacific in his attempt to encircle the globe by airplane, will be made an honorary member of the Air Force Club of British Columbia, when he arrives at Prince Rupert.

Members of the organization at a meeting held here tonight enthusiastically supported this action. Two members of the club are now at Prince Rupert and will officially represent the organization when Major MacLaren arrives at the northern point. Plans for the provision of flying for the members of the club are nearing completion, according to a report submitted tonight. The membership of the club is increasing. There are 105 ex-pilot officers in the organization.

DENIES DESIRE FOR PREFERENTIAL TARIFF

Australian Free Trader Repudiates Dominion's Wish for Protection—Production Cost Too Great

LONDON, July 29.—Secretary of the Free Trade Union of Australia has written to the press here denying that Australia wants a preferential tariff. He states that Australian condensed milk is sold in Eastern countries cheaper than in Australia and that other Australian commodities also are sold at a higher price in Australia than in other countries.

The cost of production in Australia, the Free Trade Union secretary states, is seriously increased by the heavy taxation on farming machinery and, in fact, on everything the producer uses.

DISCOVERS OLD NORSE RELICS AT SPOKANE

Norwegian Scientists Declare Pacific Northwest Settled by Countrymen 1,000 Years Ago

SPOKANE, July 29.—That a party of Norse explorers crossed the American continent and settled in the Pacific Northwest in 1010 A.D. is stated in a series of articles published by The Spokane Chronicle today, detailing discoveries declared to have been made by Oluf Lauritzson Opsjon, a Norwegian scientist, who is visiting near here.

Mr. Opsjon declares that he has discovered hundreds of carved stone tablets in various parts of the northern United States, consisting of Runic letters peculiar to old Nordic writings and other Norse characters that disprove an earlier belief that they were made by the Indians.

Bombing Planes Crash On Indian Frontier

SIMLA, July 29.—Four persons were killed, and two others injured in successive crashes of four airplanes during bombing operations against Shabikhel, southeast of Rasmak, in the country of the Waziri tribesmen on the northwestern frontier of India yesterday. A formation of six machines was caught in a fog on the return journey. Two of them reached the home airdrome safely.

DEPUTIES TOLD OF DEADLOCK

M. Herriot Reports to French Parliament on Progress Made at the Interallied Conference

LACK OF ENTHUSIASM MARKS READING OF WIRE

Socialists Applaud Some Passages, But House for Most Part Listens in Apathy to Message

PARIS, July 29.—The French Parliament received today with marked frigidity Premier Herriot's report on the progress of the Interallied Conference in London, in which the head of the Government described the failure of the conference to come to an agreement with the British and American bankers on the question of security for the Dawes plan loan to Germany.

Conclusion Not Accepted

Rene Renault, Minister of Justice and acting Premier, read the telegram from the Premier, which described briefly the work of the various committees of the London conference.

The Socialists applauded a few passages, but an immense majority of the Deputies listened in evident apathy.

Even the Moderate Left, M. Herriot's main supporters in the majority, refused to become enthusiastic, while the attitude of the opposition was one of cold aloofness.

After the document had been read the Chamber passed, without comment, to the order of the day.

"The government," the Premier's message declared, "had hoped to appear before Parliament today to bring the complete text of an agreement on the completion of which it has been working during the last two weeks, but, despite constant efforts, the negotiations have not yet been concluded.

"Various articles on the Paris accords, taken as the basis of discussion by the conference, have been referred to committees, which are sitting permanently. The first committee entrusted with the task of investigating defaults and subsequent penalties, unanimously reached conclusions which the representatives of the eventful leaders have deemed insufficient to insure the success of the loan of 800,000,000 gold marks provided for in the Dawes report. Consequently the conclusions of the committees have not yet been accepted by the conference.

"The French delegation, while seeking to afford the lenders all legitimate security, is taking care that there shall be no impairment of the Versailles Treaty and no infringments upon French rights in the event that the rights of France are not safeguarded by collective action.

"The second committee, charged with studying the conditions under which the fiscal unity of Germany can be re-established, had the outlines of its conclusions unanimously approved by the plenary session of the conference yesterday. Reservations were made concerning the maintenance of French and Belgian railway men on the left bank of the Rhine.

"The third committee is continuing its work on deliveries of kind and transfers. The plenaries session yesterday authorized this committee to study its programme regardless of the limitations of the manner which heretofore had imposed upon it. Concerning the admittance of Germans to the conference, an agreement easily was reached upon the proposition of a committee composed of one French and one British jurist."

Two Officers Killed in Battle With Bootleggers

WILMINGTON, N.C., July 29.—A posse dispatched from here to Phoenix, Brunswick County, tonight, upon receipt of reports of a battle between prohibition officers and bootleggers, found the bodies of Deputy United States Marshal Lilly and City Prohibition Agent Leo George in their automobile, two miles from this town. Both bodies were riddled with bullets fired at close range, and George's police dog was found dead in the car.

Five Drowned Near Cody

BILLINGS, Mont., July 29.—Five persons were drowned in Shohone River, near Cody, Wyo., yesterday when a broken front axle sent the automobile in which they were riding hurtling over a forty-foot embankment into the water.

SUIT WILL CANCEL U.S. OIL LEASES

Washington Makes Move to Clean Up Notorious Situation in Connection With Government Reserves

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The government today developed another phase of its effort to clear up the oil lease situation. Attorney-General Stone issued orders for the filing of a suit to cancel an oil and gas lease applying to a reservation created by executive order for the Navajo Indian nation in Southern Utah.

If the government is successful in this suit, it will take similar action to invalidate more than twenty other such permits, eighteen of which were granted by former Secretary Fall of the Interior Department, and which apply to Indian lands in a dozen different Western localities.

French Delegates Show Willingness To Meet Proposals

Would Surrender on Question of German Default Provided Experts of Original Dawes Plan Form Board of Arbitration to Deal With Flagrant Breach of Agreement in Case Allies Cannot Agree

AMERICAN OPINION IS NOW VEERING TOWARDS M. HERRIOT

LONDON, July 29.—For the first time since the Interallied Conference assembled, the French delegates tonight indicated a willingness to surrender, under certain conditions, their right to separate action against Germany in case of a reparations default under the Dawes plan.

If the Allies cannot unanimously agree whether a flagrant default has occurred, France is willing to let an arbitration board, on which there will be experts of the original Dawes commission, decide the question. One condition is that the German payments in goods be linked with the question of defaults and France acquire new rights relating to payments in kind, which are outside the present reading of the Versailles Treaty. These and other conditions the French experts tonight are embodying into a proposal which they hope will end the ten days' conference deadlock.

American Attitude Veering

In the present stages of the deadlocked conference, the American attitude seems veering toward that of France, instead of that of Great Britain. Colonel Logan's proposal of yesterday was followed by an expression of grateful appreciation on the part of the French delegates today, but the American suggestion that the reparations commission be called into the actual proceedings in the present negotiations roused immediate objection from the British.

Philip Snowden, for Great Britain, said the British view was that the American suggestion meant the unloading of one of the most important tasks of the London conference upon the shoulders of the reparations commission and involved that body in a political question.

Great Britain, Mr. Snowden declared, could not agree to this, for she always had taken the stand that the reparations commission should not participate in political negotiations.

ENDS CASE AGAINST CHICAGO SLAYERS

State's Attorney Completes Evidence and Closes on Court's Assembling This Morning

CHICAGO, July 29.—The state's "mountain of evidence" with which Robert E. Crowe, state attorney, expects to send Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, kidnappers and slayers of Robert Franks, to the gallows, is complete, that official announced tonight. He will close his case as soon as the court convenes tomorrow, he said.

If the defence attempts to introduce the testimony of any alienists as to the mental condition of the two millionaires' sons, who have pleaded guilty, Mr. Crowe said he will immediately demand that a jury be called to determine whether the slayers are mentally responsible.

SAYS WHEAT PRICES NOT WARRANTED

President of Board of Trade Sees No Reason to Anticipate Shortage in World Supply

LONDON, July 29.—Sydney Webb, president of the Board of Trade, in dealing in the House of Commons today with the rising flour prices, said there was no reason to anticipate that the world's wheat requirements would not be met until the harvest of the crops of the Northern hemisphere.

Asked if he were aware the Canadian crop would likely be 120,000,000 bushels short, the president of the Board of Trade said it was true the Canadian crop was not so good as last year, although it was premature to give out figures. Nevertheless, he thought the present rise in prices was unwarranted.

When asked if the Government proposed to interfere with the law of supply and demand, Mr. Webb said:

"Certainly, with all my heart, if only I knew how to do it."

SOVIET AND GERMANY ARRANGE TROUBLE

Friction Over Raid of Russian Delegates' Quarters in Berlin Settled by Apology and Payment

MOSCOW, July 29.—It is understood that the settlement of the trouble between Germany and Russia growing out of the raid upon the Soviet commercial headquarters in Berlin some time ago embodied an agreement by Germany to extend the principle of extra territoriality to the Soviet trade delegation offices in the German capital until a new commercial agreement is drawn up to supercede that of 1921.

Germany also agrees, it is stated, to indemnify Russia for the inconvenience caused by the raid, and to reprove the police officials responsible for it. She also will tender the Soviet Government a formal apology.

LABOR CONFERENCE CALLED AT OTTAWA

PARLEY ON LABOR PROBLEM TO BE HELD SEPTEMBER 3

Minister of Labor and Minister of Public Works Will Represent Federal Government

OTTAWA, July 29.—Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, and Hon. Dr. J. H. King, Minister of Public Works, will represent the Federal Government at a general conference on unemployment to be held in Ottawa commencing Wednesday, September 3. The purpose of the conference is to endeavor to arrive at some concrete proposal looking to the elimination of unemployment during the coming Winter. Representatives of the building trades have been called into the conference in the hope of finding means of extending constructional work through the Winter months on a more extensive scale than heretofore. The conference will follow the general lines taken by the similar conference here last Fall in the discussion of the immediate unemployment problems. During the last few weeks the Federal Department of Labor has canvassed most of the Canadian cities regarding representation at the conference. The results have been very satisfactory and it is anticipated that there will be a larger representation from civic bodies. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the Canadian Building and Construction Association and the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada will be represented among other organizations. The provincial governments will also have delegates. The expenses of delegates invited to the conference will be paid by the Dominion Government.

Jackson were yesterday elected as the first commissioners for the newly-organized village of Creston, and will hold office until January, 1916. Considerable interest was taken in the election, and a fairly heavy vote was polled. Election night was mildly celebrated by the Bruce Old Boys. Commissioner McCreath, who headed the polls, being a native son of Kincardine as well as a long-time resident of Creston. It is expected the new commissioners will be sworn in on August 6, on the occasion of the visit to Creston of Lord Byng and party.

Champion Cowboy Tells Experience at Wembley

Accuses American Promoters of Rodeo of Treating Canadian Riders Unfairly as None of Their Names Appeared on Prize List After Riding for First Week—Puts One Over on Challenger for $5,000 but Gets Only $100 for Job

CALGARY, July 29.—According to Pete Vandermer, champion bucking-horse rider of the Wembley rodeo, he received only $100 for his work at the exhibition. He says he rode a horse a day for the first seven days of the contest, and according to some of the cowboys who accompanied him home to Alberta, made wonderful rides. When the prize lists appeared at the close of the performance, Vandermer's name did not appear, and neither did any of the other Canadian cowboys. This continued for nearly two weeks, until Vandermer and a number of other Canadians flatly refused to continue. Then came the climax.

"They trotted out an Australian named Snowy Thompson, and his backer, Hugh McIntosh, a well-known Australian sportsman, offered to back him for $5,000 against any rider at the rodeo," Vandermer said. "I accepted the challenge and so did Howard Tegland, of New York. One of the stipulations was that all riders should use an English saddle. I did not expect this, but decided to see it through. I was pretty well disgusted by this time, and if they had trotted out these broncs with ladies' side saddles on, I think I would have taken a chance. The guys that were running the racket were wise. They extended the show over a three-day period and we were to ride a brono a day.

"The English people came out in their thousands and the big show was on.

"Well, I climbed the chutes and tried to settle myself in this pancake of a saddle. I did not know where to put my legs, so I said to myself, 'Pete, you've got to scratch this old horse so hard that you won't have time to fall off,' and that's just what I did. On the third jump I was still on so I kicked the bronc around the ears and than here I was a-sittin' as if I'd ridden in this saddle all my life. Tegland also stayed on and so did Snowy Thompson. This was repeated the second night, and finally the third night came.

"They picked out three of the worst horses in the show for the final and on the third jump Tegland went sailing off and broke a couple of fingers and sprained his leg in falling.

"Snowy Thompson lasted three jumps, and he hit the ground so hard he was unconscious for three-quarters of an hour.

"By this time I was looking for a soft place to land, but when they finally called my name I made up my mind that I would stay on that bronc if it was the last thing I did. They turned him loose and I started scratching, he bucked clear across the arena, and when I climbed down those English people sure gave me a great hand. I was introduced to the crowd as the international champion, and then, after the shouting had died down and the prizes being awarded, they handed me $100—after riding for a $5,000 side bet.

"I was mad clear through. I went after Tex Austin and Al Day, but they said they could not find the man who put up the money, and after some further discussion I decided that there was nothing for it but to grin and bear it.

"The Canadian boys got it dirty all through."

After disembarking at New York last week, Austin, so Vandermer claims, refused to provide transportation to Calgary as per contract, so the cowboys appealed to the British Consulate at New York for assistance. The Consul visited Austin at his office, and half an hour later the boys were on the train on the last lap of their journey home.

CABINET SHUFFLE AT OTTAWA NEXT

WEIGHTY PROBLEMS FACE THE GATHERING ON TUESDAY

Rearrangement of Portfolios Is Declared Inevitable and Other Matters to Be Adjusted

OTTAWA, July 29.—Important decisions lie before the cabinet council when, after a holiday of a fortnight, it meets again on Tuesday next. First comes the question of cabinet reorganization, which, in some measure, at any rate, is regarded in political circles as inevitable, although it may be deferred for some time. By-election writs have to be issued for West Hastings, Ont., and Yale, B.C. There is the appointment of a chief inspector of banks; the Canadian National Railway board has two vacancies to be filled, while there is the proposal to be considered of adding to the present Canadian National board with a view of forming an executive within easy reach of Sir Henry Thornton.

Other matters will have to be taken up shortly concerning the floating of the refunding loan in the Fall; recommendations of the Turgeon Commission that the operation of terminal elevators should be separated from the Board of Grain Commissioners; the attitude of the Government toward the suggested round-table conference between the British and dominion governments over Imperial relations and the nomination of a Canadian representative to the Empire Food Board.

There also has been some tentative consideration of a revision of the trade agreement between Canada and the West Indies concluded in 1920.

STEVENSON'S FIREMAN VISITS OLD ENGINE

Stoker of First Passenger Train in England Renews Acquaintance at Wembley

LONDON, July 29.—John Cowley, aged 82, who was fireman on George Stephenson's locomotive which drew the first passenger train in the world, yesterday visited the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley and had the peculiar pleasure of seeing the old engine standing beside a modern locomotive.

Canadian visitors who imagined that the British railway engines were toy affairs are surprised to discover that the latest type of British engine is almost as large as their own transcontinental locomotives.

MELBOURNE BABY IS EMPIRE'S BEST

Baby Wilson, who is two years and eight months old, receives £200.

James Edward Rowe, of Whitby, Ont., was the winner of the second class for babies between nine months and two years of age, with John Strang, of St. John's, Nfld., who finished at the top of the first class for infants, three to nine months, winning £40.

Kenneth Farrell, of Mount Forest, Ont., one of five babies in the first class who each receive a prize of £20, was another Canadian winner.

COURT REFUSES TO PROVIDE RESIDENCE

APPLICATION OF MRS. RATTENBURY IS REFUSED

Had Already Ordered Husband to Pay $300 Per Month Pending Result of Divorce Suit

VANCOUVER, July 29.—"A husband cannot make it impossible for a wife to live in his house."

This was the contention of Robert Cassidy, K.C., to Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald today when counsel sought an order establishing the right of Mrs. Florence Eleanor Rattenbury to reside in a house at 1701 Beach Drive, Victoria, owned by Francis Mawson Rattenbury.

There are two actions pending between the couple. In one Mrs. Rattenbury seeks dissolution of marriage and in the other she seeks to establish her right to enjoyment of the husband's house.

Mr. Rattenbury is a well known architect and has designed several public buildings, including the Parliament Buildings in Victoria.

Removed Wife's Bed

Mr. Cassidy stated to Mr. Justice McDonald that Rattenbury had removed most of the furniture from the house, including her bed; but Mrs. Rattenbury remained with her daughter.

"He says, 'Go to a boarding house,'" explained counsel, who added that when these measures failed the husband had the telephone, electric light and water services cut off. The electric light company refused to continue this, said Mr. Cassidy.

"Serious damage to her health must ensue," he contended. "A husband has no legal right to turn his wife out of doors. He cannot throw her out on the street, nor can he make it impossible for her to live in the house."

Mr. Justice McDonald pointed out that he had already, in the divorce suit, ordered the husband to pay alimony of $300 a month until the case was tried.

"I question the propriety of making the order asked," said his lordship. "I am not going to make an order providing a home for her. The application is dismissed."

Mr. Cassidy continued to argue, but his lordship said his decision could be appealed.

"An appeal does not do me much good when the water is turned off," replied counsel.

No Election This Fall

OTTAWA, July 29.—There is no likelihood whatever of an election this Fall, states The Citizen. Although Premier King is to make a tour of the West in October the design is more of looking to the future than preparing for any immediate appeal to the country. His itinerary has not been arranged, but it will probably embrace Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver.

Forest Air Patrol Crashes

CALGARY, July 29.—Cutting down through the storm banked clouds while doing forest patrol duty in his airplane in the Porcupine Hills district on Monday, George Mercer, aviator, crashed into the top of a hill that was hidden by the low-lying clouds and wrecked his plane. Mercer sustained a broken nose, but was not seriously injured.

North Vancouver Man Held for Manslaughter

NORTH VANCOUVER, July 29.—Following the verdict of the jury inquiring into the death of William Forsyth, who was fatally injured Saturday afternoon while working in the excavation at Lynn Creek Bridge, John H. Todd, who was acting as signalman at the time, was arrested on a charge of manslaughter. The evidence hinged on the position of the men in the excavation, and as to whether there had been proper and sufficient warning.

Todd was allowed out on $10,000 bail of two sureties.

SOVIET RUSSIA TO UNDERTAKE RADIO

WILL MAKE AMATEUR SETS FOR MILLIONS AND SUPERVISE

Broadcasting to United States Likely on Completion of Huge Station Near Moscow

MOSCOW, July 29.—Soviet Russia will join the United States and other countries in broadcasting news, speeches and entertainment programmes to the public and the council of commissars is expected shortly to issue a decree permitting the installation of receiving sets in the home at a moderate licence fee.

The government will not only allow radio users to construct their own receiving sets, but will undertake itself to manufacture amateur apparatus for Russia's millions. This will require an entirely new industry and the government hopes it will stimulate the development of electrical science and provide work for state factories which are running at reduced capacity.

Jury Will Select Model

Engineers, electricians and the general public are invited to submit models of home receiving sets. These will be examined by a jury of experts and a prize awarded the designer of the one chosen as best adapted to Russian conditions.

There are forty sending stations in Russia, eight of which have a radius of 2,000 miles or more. The government is completing a powerful receiving station at Lioubertzy, near Moscow, which will be capable of picking up the principal American stations.

Broadcasting from Russia to the United States will become possible, it is hoped, when the government has finished the great Khodynka station on the outskirts of Moscow. It will have a capacity of 150 kilowatts and an estimated sending radius of 5,000 miles.

At present Moscow listens regularly to Arlington, Annapolis and the powerful Long Island station. The signals from these are extraordinarily distinct but the Halifax and other Canadian stations are heard only feebly.

PROCLAMATION IS CALLED MILITARY

DEMOCRATIC VICE-PRESIDENT CANDIDATE IS PACIFIST

Refuses to Adopt President Coolidge's Call for the Observation of Mobilization Day

NEW YORK, July 29.—The adopting of the pacifist role by Governor Charles W. Bryan, of Nebraska, Democratic vice-presidential candidate, is occasioning not a little comment today, chiefly because it is the only definite political move that has been made for some days in the so far uneventful election campaign.

Governor Bryan refused to endorse a proclamation issued by President Coolidge for the celebration of "Mobilization Day," September 12. In his declaration last night the Nebraska governor explained that he considered President Coolidge's programme a "military gesture." He said he would issue the president's proclamation and ask the Nebraskan national guard to mobilize at their home stations, but would go no further than this.

Political observers look upon the move as an attempt to make "militarism" an issue of the campaign and steal La Follette's thunder.

Inspired by "The Peerless One"

Bryan, before his selection as the running mate for John W. Davis, was known to fame as the brother of William Jennings Bryan. The anti-militarism move is believed to have been inspired by "the peerless one," who is supposed to have his fingers upon the political pulse of the west. It is pointed out that Governor Bryan is in the heart of what is known as the pacifist district. It went overwhelmingly for Wilson in 1916 on the "Keep us out of the war" issue. Bryan, it is declared, was selected on the Democratic ticket to take care of the west, therefore his attitude in this case is regarded as a logical political move.

It does not appear to worry the Republicans, according to the attitude of newspapers of that party. They point out that Bryan made only half a gesture. He deplored Coolidge's supposed "militarism" but agreed to call out the national guard "for inspection and practice in military activities."

Fatal Fire at Seattle

SEATTLE, July 29.—Mrs. Leona Nasser, formerly a school teacher in Olympia, Wash., was burned to death when fire destroyed her home here today. Her husband, Joseph E. Nasser, had just left the house for his day's work when he heard her scream, he said. Nasser stated that he returned to the house and tried to save his wife, but was foiled by her stumbling, by smoke that filled the house, by her leg catching in a doorway and by an explosion of a gasoline stove that had been in disuse.

VANCOUVER, July 29.—To Mrs. W. A. D. Munday, of this city, belongs the honor of being the first woman to climb to the peak of Mount Robson, 13,069 feet in height, in the Canadian Rockies. Mrs. Munday, with her husband and a party of climbers made the ascent yesterday, according to word received here last night.

Fatal Train Accident

EDINBURGH, Scotland, July 29.—Four women were killed and 28 other women were injured in a railway collision at Haymarket Station here today. The casualties were mostly among a party of tourists traveling under the auspices of a polytechnic institution

Premier Seeks Issue to Divert Public Attention

Senate Not Worrying About Threats by Mr. Mackenzie King—No Parallel Between House of Lords and Second Chamber at Ottawa—Attitude of Prime Minister Regarding International Treaties Interpreted as Hostile Towards Britain

(Special to The Colonist)

OTTAWA—Premier King's threats against the Senate can be viewed with complacency by the Second Chamber, as there is no basis for his criticism; and even if there were, the Premier lacks power to enforce his desire. With a solid sixty-five from Quebec, he, if he lays hands on the Confederation guarantee of minority privilege, will find a solid sixty-five from that Province against him. Nor will the Maritime Province members view with equanimity constitutional changes in the Senate. They are another minority. Still another minority that regards the Senate as the guardian of their special privileges is the Roman Catholic minority. It is also doubtful if the British Parliament would consider a request for a change in the powers of the Senate without the consent of the four original signatories to the Confederation Treaty, for Confederation was founded on the Treaty of the British North America Act, signed by Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. There is nothing parallel between the House of Lords and the Senate. The former is the gradual constitutional development of centuries, while the latter is a treaty, containing written obligations and guarantees that cannot be scrapped or modified without the consent of the participating bodies. Confederation was only made possible by the inclusion of the Senate in the legislative system. It is unlikely that the minorities of today will be less jealous of the guarantee of the privileges than were the same minorities in 1867. It is evident that the stability of the Senate is less endangered that the stability of Premier King's Government.

Hunting An Issue

Premier King is hunting an issue to divert public attention from the deplorable state to which his present policy has driven our financial, commercial and transportation interests. This was plainly evident in his attack on the Senate. The Pensions Bill was brought into the Senate a few hours before prorogation. The Government leader, Hon. Raoul Dandurand, a member of the Cabinet, asked the Senate to kill the bill as it was hastily drawn and ill-considered, and there was no time for the Senate to review this important legislation. Everybody did then and still thinks that Senator Dandurand spoke with the authority of the Government. Sir James Lougheed agreed the bill should not be accepted, but objected to its being entirely thrown out, as this would work a hardship on soldiers receiving the pension bonus. He proposed to amend the bill, leaving the Pensions Act with the bonus as it is, and deal with the new phases next year. This was done, and Premier King made his grandstand play for a new issue. In the Senate are many overseas men, and they were satisfied with the action of Sir James Lougheed. Premier King's attempt to pose as the soldiers' friend makes him ridiculous. If his representative in the Senate had won out, the soldiers' pension bonus would not have been in existence today. During the session, the Soldiers' Committee in the Commons was presided over by an anti-conscriptionist. This chairman was warned time and again to expedite matters so that the Pensions Bill would reach the Senate in time for review. He refused to do so, and therein was the first means to defeat the measure. Then came the Senate Liberal leader's suggestion the bill be rejected. This was not done, but the soldiers protected until another session. Premier King's attempt to secure a new issue failed, and will fail, as he cannot evade the fiscal issue.

Challenge Statement

Twice since the Labor Government has taken office in Great Britain have its members challenged the truth of Premier King's statements. On the Lausanne Treaty, Premier Ramsay MacDonald gave a direct and unqualified denial to the Canadian Premier's assertion, and last week Hon. J. H. Thomas did the same, but in even more direct language. It is unfortunate that in his attitude toward Great Britain the Canadian Premier should assume the British people and government are hostile to Canada. He is the only Canadian in public life who has such a conception of British sentiment. It is probable that his peculiar attitude arises from hostility in himself to Britain and not the reverse. Great Britain would welcome as large a British delegation as possible at any conference on world's affairs, but the susceptibilities of France have to be considered. The great object is to settle European affairs to bring peace and prosperity to a troubled world. When everything is in the balance, Premier King precipitates the issue of Canadian representation into an already suspicious and acrimonious conference. South Africa, Australia and New Zealand did not do so. They thought more at the present time of settling the affairs in Europe than deciding Empire constitutional procedure. Premier King thought otherwise. It appeared more important to him that Senator Belcourt should have a ringside seat than that the financial problems of a continent should be definitely solved. What is fortunate for Canada is that a labor government should be in power in Britain when Premier King is remaking the constitution. If it had been a Conservative Government in control in England, what a chance there would have been for Premier King to denounce it as seeking to make Canada revert to a colonist status and place us under the control of Downing Street! By this time he would have had a dozen speeches in print based on the fight his grandfather, William Lyon Mackenzie, made in 1837 against Downing Street. The real truth is that Canada is too busy worrying about taxation and debt to become deeply interested whether Senator Belcourt has a ringside seat or not at a European conference dealing with a European problem.

A French-Canadian View

A French Canadian living in Medford, Massachusetts, makes interesting comment on a speech of Senator Rufus Pope delivered recently at Ayerscliff, Que., in which he said: "We don't want to bear any more babies for Yankees." He made this statement when referring to "the unusual exodus of Canadians to the United States on account of the wishy-washy methods of the Dominion Government." This was published in the American papers, and brought to Senator Pope many letters, and among them the following interesting criticism from a French-Canadian, viz.:

"I see a piece in a Boston paper you speaking at Ayerscliff no more babies for Yankees. I am glad to hear some talk that suits me. Every young man and girl from the age of 15 to 20 years coming to the United States is like 10,000 dollars in the U.S. Treasury. It is a machine all ready built ready to go to work, and didn't cost them a cent. Baby had to be fead and clothed and schooled befor he can go to work."

Few parliamentarians have produced a stronger argument against the present government than this expatriated French-Canadian driven from his native land by industrial conditions prevailing in Canada.

DOUBTFUL AS TO P.G.E.'S FUTURE

VANCOUVER DELEGATES NOT AS ONE MIND ON PROBLEM

Hon. A. M. Manson Declares Work Must Be Taken Out of Politics and Carried to Completion

VANCOUVER, July 29.—"The Pacific Great Eastern Railway has been made a political football altogether too long. It is time that it ceased to be such—time for men of all political faiths to get together and seek a solution of the problems of that line."

This was the hope expressed by Hon. A. M. Manson, in a brief address to members of the Vancouver Board of Trade, who had just returned from a trip over the line to its present terminus at Quesnel.

Mr. Manson expressed the belief that the problems would be faced in the near future and a solution found. "This railroad must of necessity," he said, "be finished, and its completion to a certain definite point is a problem that will shortly be faced."

Members of the Vancouver Board of Trade traveled over the P.G.E. to gather information regarding the possibilities of the line. Some were almost convinced that practical abandonment was the only way out of the serious problem that it constituted.

They all return converts to the completion and the maintenance of the line, and that completion in the minds of many includes construction of the "cut-off" from Clifton to Ashcroft, which has so often been suggested.

The party reached Vancouver on the SS. Lady Alexandra last evening.

COMMITTEE ACCEPTS BOARD'S INVITATION

Reverted Lands Body of City Council Will Meet Real Estate Men to Discuss Situation

The Reverted Lands Committee has accepted the invitation of the Victoria Real Estate Board to attend a luncheon of the latter body on August 6 for the purpose of discussing the reverted land problem.

"Before the Real Estate Board hit upon the idea at a recent meeting of having several of its members sit in with the Lands Committee, we had given instructions that representatives of the Board be invited to meet us to discuss the question of the city's lands," said Alderman Dewar, chairman of the Reverted Lands Committee, yesterday. "Several years ago real estate men met with the committee and approved the prices we set on our property, and now they are raising objections to our prices. We want to meet them ad secure their opinions."

Mr. Hughes Is Optimistic

PARIS, July 29.—Secretary of State Hughes is optimistic about the interallied London conference and has hopes for its success, "because the alternative of a success would be so grave that the conference must come to an agreement," he declared after his arrival here last evening.

STEWART WILL BE GREAT CAMP SOON

DUNWELL MINE TO SHIP ORE THIS SEASON

Victoria Barrister Looks Over the Promising Properties in Area Near to Famous Premier

Four mines, including the famous Premier, are shipping ore at present in the Stewart district, and the Dunwell will be shipping high grade ore before the Summer is over, according to word brought back to the city yesterday by Mr. H. C. Hall, K.C., who has spent a week in the north country, looking over the Independence mine, largely owned by Victoria interests.

"Stewart promises to be the centre of one of the great mining areas of the world," said Mr. Hall. "There is a strong feeling of confidence in the future of the camp among all the practical mining men and prospectors, and everybody up there is engaged either in actual mining of paying ore bodies or in the development of new properties.

Activity at Premier

"Tangible evidences of the great extent of the Stewart mining field abound. The wonderful Premier mine is a standing advertisement for the district. Its overhead tramline, fifteen miles long, is delivering a bucket of ore at the mill every two minutes. There are 400 men working for the Premier company, and the shipments are increasing every month. Next month will be the biggest in production in the history of the mine."

Besides the Premier, the B.C. Silver and the Outsider are also shipping ore. The Dunwell will ship ore within the next two months. Mr. Hall brings word that there is more prospecting on the Bear River this Summer than ever before. The district is largely being prospected and developed by Victoria men and old-timers from the Kootenay country.

Independence Shows Ore

The Independence mine, which is being developed by Victoria men, is showing great promise, Mr. Hall found. The mine is twelve miles from the mouth of the Salmon River. A tunnel driven to crosscut ore body No. 2 is in 290 feet, and has connected with the ore body at that point. The crosscut shows a face of galena ore 25 feet wide. The ore carries good values in gold and silver.

"Some idea of the great extent of the Stewart mineralized area," said Mr. Hall, "can be formed from the fact that at Mount Lindenberg ore is being taken out at an altitude of 7,000 feet, while at Eleven-Mile Point on the Salmon River, ore has been struck in shafts at levels below the bed of the river. The Premier and Dunwell mines are eleven miles apart, with the Bear River and a range of mountains between, and there are large and high-grade ore bodies in both of them."

GOOD MARKET FOR B.C. GROWERS SEEN

Province Will Reap Benefit of Poor Apple Harvest in Eastern United States and Canada

There will be a good prairie market for British Columbia fruit this year, according to Mr. J. A. Grant, Dominion Market Commissioner, who has arrived on the Coast from Calgary, where he makes his headquarters.

The yield of tree fruit in Ontario, Michigan and Wisconsin is far below normal, declared Mr. Grant. Easterners will not be able to flood the wheat Provinces with early apples, and this will leave the way open for the later varieties of British Columbia apples.

Mackintoch apples command a good sale on the prairies and the crop is good as last year, in the opinion of the Market Commissioner. Wealthys, which have formerly been a drag upon the market, have only a fifty per cent crop this year.

"You may therefore expect to sell as many apples on the prairies as last year and get a better price for them," said Mr. Grant, summarizing the outlook.

Peaches will be scarce in British Columbia this year, while the apricot crop will only be fairly good. Except in the Kootenays, cherries were half the 1923 crop. Crab apples are a partial failure. Plums will be scarce, and prunes will be about normal.

Pears and peaches will reach a high price, as there will be little competition from California, Virginia or Florida. Apples will have a ninety per cent crop, but will command a more lucrative market.

Killed Near Quesnel

QUESNEL, B.C., July 29.—Charles Howery is dead and R. A. Mitchell seriously injured as the result of being pinned beneath a heavy speed wagon for an hour and a half when a steering gear broke on a steep hill near here. A. D. Whittier, of Quesnel, and Paul Barnet, of Vancouver, were thrown clear of the car and received cuts and bruises.

KIWANIANS SPONSER TWO ARCHES IN CITY

Mr. Carl Stocker Heads Committee to Promote Scheme—Support of Community Is Sought

Victoria will possess artistic arches at the main entrances to the city, extending a welcome to tourists and all who come to British Columbia's Capital City, when plans arranged by a committee of the Victoria Kiwanis Club, headed by Second Vice-President Carl Stocker, are put into effect.

Local Kiwanians are fostering the construction of rustic arches at the intersection of Quadra Street and Tolmie Avenue, and at Gorge and Harriet Roads. The plans for this community undertaking are being prepared, and it is hoped that within a month's time a commencement on the building of these much needed arches will be made.

"Victoria City Limits—Victoria Welcomes You," will be the words likely adorning one side of the arch, while on the other will be an inscription something after this nature: "Good-bye—Come Again." These arches are familiar sights on the state highways in Washington and other Northwest states, and their advertising value, as well as the courtesy which they in themselves extend to visitors to the community, is easily recognizable and appreciated.

Mr. Stocker, at yesterday's luncheon of the Kiwanis Club in the Chamber of Commerce, warned the members that he would shortly call upon them to go out to the places where the arches will be erected, and assist in their construction. The arches will be built with logs, which will have to be drawn to these two entrances to the city.

The cost of the undertaking will be borne by donations, Mr. Stocker asserted, in issuing a call for workers in building the arches. While the Kiwanis Club was promoting this enterprise, it was not confined to Kiwanians to take part in the work, although it is expected that they will lead the way. All citizens are asked to contribute to this worthy proposal.

BOARD WILL CONDUCT INQUIRY INTO RATES

Protests Against Crow's Nest Pass Agreement Reaching Ottawa Premier Is Told

A general inquiry into the railway freight rates of Western Canada will be undertaken by the Railway Board, and especially into the situation created by the restoration of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement.

Advices to this effect were received in a telegram yesterday from the secretary of the board to Premier Oliver, in reply to the request of the Provincial Government that a date be set for the hearing of British Columbia's application for rate reductions.

"The situation as a result of the restoration of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement is perfectly impossible and preposterous," said the Premier yesterday, discussing his correspondence with the Railway Board. The specific applications of the government for rate reductions on grain and other shipments will be filed immediately, the Premier intimated.

Protests reaching the Railway Board, the Premier was informed by the board secretary, are based upon the contentions (1) that the Crow's Nest Pass rates, should apply on freight eastbound from British Columbia as well as on that westbound into it; and (2) that the Crow's Nest rates, if they are to be restored at all, should apply on all railway lines in Western Canada.

WEATHER PROPHESIES ARE MADE TOO LOUD

Sang "It Ain't Goin' to Rain No Mo'," So Police Make Raid—Warning Given Occupant

A. Weston, living at No. 3 Oriental Alley, was charged in the police court with permitting drunkenness in his premises. The evidence of the police was that on Sunday evening about 11 o'clock there had been a call sent to the station informing them that there was a disturbance at the place. They had visited the location and found six men and two women more or less under the influence of drink.

The evidence of those who were called by Mr. R. C. Lowe was given for the defence, and it was admitted that there was some drinking and also some singing, but that none of them were drunk. The popular ballad, "It ain't goin' to rain no mo'," was admitted to have been one of the favorite selections.

Police Magistrate Jay, in dismissing the charge, referred to the fact that the only reference in the act to drunkenness was in this section under which the information was laid. He had no doubt that there had been drinking and singing. The police, he felt, under the circumstances that were alluded to in the evidence had a perfect right to interfere. He, however, did not think that a condition that would be construed as drunkenness prevailed, and therefore he dismissed the charge, giving the occupant of the rooms warning that he should be more careful with respect to allowing boisterous singing to be indulged in in his rooms.

GREEK REFUGEES

The refugees' problem in Greece still remains very grave and continues to be viewed with concern by the British Government, which has recently issued an official statement on the subject. It appears that of the million refugees who were in the country in 1922 some 500,000 have found employment. The balance are still destitute. In addition to these there are arriving in the country 181,000 from Constantinople and Asia Minor under the exchange of populations, and these are really refugees in bad plight. The resources of relief continue inadequate, in fact, hopelessly so, and the danger is not only from starvation, but from the birth and dissemination of epidemics throughout the country. The appeal continues to be to public charity and the chief work in this direction is being done through the two British societies—the Imperial War Relief Relief Fund and the Save the Children Fund. These are the only two organizations which for the past eighteen months have been working among the refugees. They can only continue if funds are forthcoming. It is estimated that for the sum of $25 it is possible to keep a family of normal size alive for four months. The British Government has invited a response to the appeal now being made by these two relief organizations and, in addition, both Mr. Baldwin and Mr. Asquith have supported the appeal.

THROUGH THE AGES

In a recent issue of The English Review appears an article from the pen of Mr. William Little on the subject of alcohol through the ages. The earliest record of viticulture and vinification is found in the Mosaic account of the Deluge. Mr. Little deduces from this that the art of making alcoholic liquor was known before the Flood since one of the first things Noah and his sons did when they came out of the Ark was to make wine. The presumption is that the vines, though immersed, survived the Flood. Mr. Little points to the first Prohibition Act. He says the consumption of wine reached a very high point a thousand years before the Christian era, at which time Lycurgus, King of Thrace, a strict teetotaller, forbade the use of wine to his subjects and rooted up all the vines within his kingdom. It is not recorded how long the experiment lasted. The upshot was that Lycurgus was put to death on the grounds that he had brought the anger of the gods upon his country.

Mr. Little goes on to tell of the days of the Romans when the connoisseurs preserved their choicest wines in earthenware jars, while there was also evidence of bottles much the same as are used at present. Prices ranged also somewhat as they do today in countries outside the realm of "Liquor Control" laws. For instance, a bottle of very old Opimian of the year when Opimus was Consul sold for 19s. 6d. He tells of the banquets of the Romans at which the rule was "aut bibat aut abeat," and when toasting his mistress the Roman reveller used to call on his friends to drain a cup for every letter of her name. The account given by Mr. Little, which is really a summary of history on the subject, but history written entertainliy, adds this much light to the liquor question, namely, that the experience which has brought about the present stage of civilization and the efficiency of nations which has furnished cause for admiration in reading their history, were not the result of Prohibition laws.

THE OPIUM EVIL

A brief few years ago there was a consensus of opinion that the use of opium in China was on the wane. It now appears that this use is on the increase. The policy of suppression has failed and the abuse of opium is as great an evil in China today as it was when the foreign import was unrestricted and consumption unlimited by law. In 1923 the opium produced in China was 25,000,000 pounds. All other countries in the world only produced 3,000,000 pounds. The drug is cheap, and, in general use and growth, apparently, is unrestricted. The military commanders in the different provinces are paying their troops out of funds derived from the taxation of opium. Land taxation is so high that farmers are forced to grow a valuable crop to meet them, and so opium is chosen. The Government at Pekin endeavors to enforce the prohibitory laws, but its power in the provinces is almost nugatory because those provinces are governed by military rulers. These rulers are merely pandering to a popular taste. There is no widespread public opinion in China against the vice of indulgence in opium. China is apathetic. There is no combined effort against the evil and it is not one in which foreign Powers can intervene or Leagues of Nations nor can any other external organizations do any good through propaganda.

TOO MUCH CRIME

A speaker before the American Bar Association took occasion to point out that in New York City in 1921 there were 260 murders, while there were only 63 in England and Wales, with seven times the population of the American city. Another speaker said that "in the United States life and property are less secure from criminal violence than in any other country on the globe that is not in a state of barbarism." The putting up of barriers against evil-doing is one of the primary considerations of government. The American barriers in this respect seem deplorably weak. They stand in need of re-erection. Most of the inmates of American penitentiaries are under 25 years of age, and in this connection the Chief of Police of New York City says that "lack of home training and indifference to religion, plays and moving picture shows are responsible for the new psychological outlook of a lot of young men and women."

La Patrie thinks that the honor of Canada's participation in the League of Nations is too costly at the rate of $165,000 per annum. It seems a heavy price to pay, but in the long run events may justify the expenditure. It is at least some insurance against war, and some of our politicians prefer that type of insurance to national defence.

Germany has now a "Union of Enemies of Tobacco." Of the making of unions, societies, clubs, associations, councils, cliques, coteries and committees there is seemingly no end. Probably this seeking after the conglomerate idea is a revolt against that individualism which marked the initiative and enterprise of the past.

Mr. Massey a few weeks ago celebrated the twelfth anniversary of his appointment as Prime Minister of New Zealand. His term of office has now nearly equalled that of Mr. Seddon, who was in power for thirteen years. Mr. Massey is the only War Premier within the British Empire who is still in power.

The London (Ont.) Free Press says: "It is rather curious that those anti-Imperialists and extreme autonomists who resent anything savoring of advice or suggestion from the Old Land are likewise strongly opposed to Canada providing any share of the naval defence of the Empire, or even co-operating with a navy of our own. It is a humiliating position we occupy in the world. Mr. Mackenzie King and autonomists of his ken talk big of Canada as a nation, but they refuse to accept any of the responshibilities of nationhood. They want all the glory of a nation, but when it comes to footing the bills, well, let John Bull do it. They are keenly sensitive as to our authority as a nation when it is a matter of signing treaties, but they are quite content that we shall be mere Crown colonies when it comes to providing our share of naval defence."

At a moment when British and Soviet plenipotentiaries are negotiating to find a way for economic and political peace between the two countries the Third International Congress has been in session and has been discussing practical methods of mobilizing Asia's millions. The official spokesman of that Congress, Mr. Manuilsky, asked the Congress to consider "whether it is possible to shatter Britain's might without mobilizing these colonial masses." His idea is that the proletariat in Britain should be asked to "strip Britain of these human reserves as limitless as the ocean." M. Zinovieff, repeated his time-worn phrase that temporarily it is necessary to support "MacDonald's counter-revolutionary Labor Government as a rope supports a hanging man" until the present "evanescent democratic pacifist era" gives place to the next stage of the universal Communist revolution.

"There was every disposition to let the Labor Party make good, to see it perhaps its performance might in a measure bear out its promises," says The London Daily Express. "That its tenure of office has been an inconspicuous failure (neither its blunders nor its successes having been particularly spectacular) is not the fault of its opponents nor entirely its own. The weakness of the Socialist Administration is not so much in its personnel, for it contains many men of good average ability, but in what it represents. It is a class Government, legislating for all classes of the community. That is its essential unsoundness. A brilliant record in office might have broadened its appeal. Success in legislation might have changed a class party into a national one; but these things have not happened. The Socialist Party remains the mouthpiece of sectionalism. Perhaps that is its only excuse for existence. It is certainly a reason why it should not be returned to power."

Communist Clubs Dissolved

BUCHAREST, July 29.—Under a decree declaring a state of siege, all the Communist organizations in Roumania have been ordered dissolved by the Government. The order does not effect Socialist organizations.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

Meetings have been held in various parts of Canada and in various parts of the United States protesting against war. We may be mistaken, but observation of the course of human events convinces us that wars cannot be prevented by holding meetings and passing resolutions. Besides, surely the meetings were held and the resolutions passed in the wrong places. The meetings should have been held and the resolutions passed in certain parts of Europe. Probably the cause of perpetual peace might have been promoted by holding a few meetings and passing a few resolutions in some of the central parts of Asia and Africa also, because wars often begin in unexpected places and spread with considerable celerity to other unexpected places.

* * *

There have been no wars worth speaking of in this part of the world for a great many years. The material of which wars are made is not very plentiful in this part of the world. Racial and religious antagonisms and prejudices, if not actually dead, are rapidly dying.

* * *

There is no reason in the world why Canadians or Americans should lust after larger territorial possessions. Canadians already possess a landed inheritance of Imperial proportions and the people of the United States still have fairly large opportunities to distribute themselves without passing from beneath the shadow cast by their flag. Furthermore, war never enters the thoughts of the people of this continent.

* * *

Wars are imminent only in countries where the people are constantly contemplating the possibility of war. The menace of war hovered over Europe for almost forty years before the Great War broke out and upset the balance of the whole spiritual, physical and business world. It is a lamentable fact that Europe is still "thinking in the terms of war," and apparently cannot be persuaded to alter the tenor of its militant thoughts.

* * *

Republican Germany would be Imperialistic and revengeful Germany tomorrow if she had an opportunity to carry her latent Imperialism into practice. France knows that, and it is adequate security against such a menace that stands in the way of her acceptance of the programme for settlement of the affairs of distraught Europe.

* * *

But if there are no racial or religious antagonisms worthy of consideration on this continent, there are continents beyond the seas, with strong and potentially virile races inhabiting them, to be taken into consideration when contemplating the possibility of perpetual peace. Therefore it is apparent that the time has not yet arrived when it would be quite safe to beat the sword into a ploughshare and the spear into a pruning-hook. The time may come when peace will brood like a divine benediction over the entire physical world; but that time is not yet. In these days of applied science, of science applied to all arts, and especially of advanced science applied to the art of war, thousands of miles of water constitute no real barrier to invasion. This continent must therefore take measures to protect itself against all eventualities, and this continent, with its tremendous extent of inviting territory and its increasing wealth, is going to prove a great temptation some day to some predatory race.

* * *

In the meantime, if we in Canada have no immediate external menace, there are certain internal manifestations that must occasion grave apprehension. Lawlessness is increasing throughout the land. Robberies by violence are becoming altogether too prevalent. The use of the pistol is becoming altogether too common in almost every part of the country. That has not been a habit of the Canadian people. Whether it is an importation or has been acquired by association with our immediate neighbors is a difficult matter to determine.

* * *

A wave of lawlessness is sweeping over the neighboring city of Vancouver. The Mayor of the city has given instructions to the police force that it must become active and clean up the lawless debris. That command is not going to be easy to execute, because Vancouver is practically a border city, a sort of clearing house for desperate characters who seem to have vowed a vow that they will not live by honest toil, but by taking toll upon the toil of others. That sort of lawlessness, like the lawlessness of nations which takes form in war, cannot be put down by passing resolutions. In fact, the longer we live the more we are convinced of the futility of holding public meetings and passing resolutions upon any subject. The only thing that can be said in favor of the meeting and resolution habit is that it seems to please the meeting callers and the resolution passers and does harm to nobody.

Chaos, we are told, reigns in British politics. Not one of the political parties over there is united. Every party has wings, and the wings are flapping the divisions farther apart. Even the Labor Party, although it is in office, is divided against itself. There is scarcely anything left of the old Liberal Party to tell the tale of its internal troubles. Asquith's influence is extinct, and Lloyd George is trying to reach a working agreement with the Conservatives. The Conservatives, cleft asunder, are said to be striving to reach an understanding with the moderate Labor leaders. All parties fear an election. And if there were an election, wouldn't there be a dainty dish to set before the electorate?

Poems That Endure

Untwisting all the chains that tie
The hidden soul of harmony.
—John Milton.

INVOCATION TO YOUTH

Come then, as ever, like the wind at morning;
Joyous, O Youth, in the aged world renew
Freshness to feel the eternities around it,
Rain, stars and clouds, light and the sacred dew.
The strong sun shines above thee:
That strength, that radiance bring
If Winter come to Winter,
When shall men hope for Spring?
—Laurence Binyon.

Canada's Story Day by Day

By BLODWEN DAVIES

July 30

"Quaint was the ceremony of feudal homage which was introduced into Canada along with the traditions attached to that system when feudalism was transplanted from old to new France. Robert Gifford was a surgeon who visited Canada in 1627. He built a hunting lodge at Beaufort and so keen became his pleasure in his new surroundings that in 1635 he succeeded in securing the district thereabout as the seigneury of Beaufort and became Canada's first seigneur. Descendants of his fiefs still live in Beaufort. It is recorded that on this day in 1640 a fief by the name Dion, apparently an unruly subject, paid his feudal homage to his seigneur, in accordance with a sentence passed upon him. The ceremony consisted of him kneeling at the principal door of his seigneur's home and declaring himself a faithful fief man and promising to pay the dues of the feudal system. When the feudal system was abolished in Canada in 1854, a total of almost thirteen million acres of land was involved, 160 seigneurs, 220 fiefs and 72,000 rentiers. The system had played an important and necessary part in the settlement and defence of Canada and has left to Quebec a certain sense of aristocracy among old families who have helped to guide Canadian destinies for centuries. Canada is the only country which abolished the feudal system without bloodshed.

NANAIMO ORDERS NEW PAVEMENT BUILDING

NANAIMO, July 30.—The Streets Committee of the City Council reported at the meeting last evening, that they had completed plans for the laying of a seven-inch, twenty-foot wide pavement on Fitzwilliam Street, from the E. & N. Railway tracks to Machleary Street, at a cost of $5,000, the work to be done by day labor. The report was adopted and the work of paving will be commenced at once.

Mr. T. A. Spruston, superintendent of the Canadian Collieries at Extension, in a letter to the Council, reminded them that in 1909 an agreement had been made between the company and the Council to the effect that the company gave a right-of-way for a twelve-inch water main through their property, and in return the city promised that in the event of a water shortage at the mines, the company would have the privilege of tapping the main with a one-inch pipe for water supply at No. 6 mine. The mater was referred to the Water Committee for report.

Body of Nanaimo Soldier Killed in War Is Identified

NANAIMO, July 30.—Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart, of this city, have been advised by the Department of National Defence at Ottawa, that the remains of their son, Thomas, have been located in France. Private Thomas Stewart was, for official purposes, presumed to have died on or since September 30, 1918. This was all the information available, but his mother is now informed that graves registration parties, searching the late battle areas, located the isolated grave of Private Stewart, and the remains were reverently and carefully removed and reburied in Cabaret Rouge, British Cemetery, six miles north of Arras, France.

The communication states that in due course a permanent headstone will be erected over the new grave by the Imperial War Graves Commission of London.

Vancouver Island

LAKE COWICHAN NOW IS MECCA OF TOURISTS

People From All Parts of World Find Pleasure at Popular Resort—Primitive Conditions Past

LAKE COWICHAN, July 23.—During the past month visitors from all parts of the world have found their way to this lake and have carried away with them a lasting memory of the glory of the Interior of the Island.

Thirty years ago, the traveler after leaving the train at Duncan, journeyed by the stage drawn by four horses over a fearsome road, intent on reaching the promised paradise. Twice every week the stage ran in and out to the old Cowichan Lake Hotel, and the beauty of the lake gradually became known the world over. Nowadays things have changed—a good automobile road gives access to the outside world, motor stages run to meet all trains at Duncan and every day a gas car runs over the Canadian National line direct from Point Ellice, Victoria, to the foot of the lake. The scenic wonders of this lakeland remain the same. Twenty miles of entrancing waterways stretching on into the interior, awaits the lover of grandure, while mountains thousands of feet high tower above. Then in absolute contrast to the rugged surrounding hills there are islands and bays outlined in magnificently blended shades of soft green and brown.

The water of this enchanting lake is clear as the mountain springs which feed it. To the bather it is irresistible and its mild temperature strikes no unfriendly chill.

The eastern section of the lake divides into north and south arms and from the extremity of the latter the Cowichan River starts on its course to the sea. This point is known as the foot of the lake and is marked by an almost land-locked basin, round the shores of which is the pictureque village of Lake Cowichan with is quaint collection of houseboats.

Near the junction of the lake and river stands the Riverside Inn, a fully modern hotel which was built on the site of the old inn of the same name, which was destroyed by fire some years ago. The settlement of the lake is confined almost entirely to the south arm and the automobile road runs along its north shore for two or three miles passing the Cowichan Lake Hotel, a quaint old building of considerable historic interest, having had the distinction of entertaining members of the Royal Houses of Europe.

The trout fishing has earned additional fame for Cowichan Lake and wonderful indeed are some of the catches which are made during the season. A few miles from the lake shore one gets into almost unexplored country abounding in big game and birds.

Several launches facilitate water communication to all parts of the lake and the Cowichan Lake Hotel maintains a fleet of outboard motor boats which carry voyagers wheresoever their fancy dictates.

Duncan People Here For Anniversary of Cullison Wedding

DUNCAN, July 29.—Mr. and Mrs. F. Dibb and family have returned home from Victoria, where on Sunday they were present at the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mrs. Dibb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levan Cullison, 510 Admiral's Road. The immediate family were all represented at the reception tendered, including Mr. J. A. Cullison, of Mayne Island, a son; and Miss Allie McDonald and Mr. Gordon McDonald, of Crofton, grandchildren. The many gifts received testified to the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Cullison are held. Among the gifts to Mrs. Cullison was a handsome bar pin set with her birthstone from the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church, Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Cullison were married in Dudley, Pa., and came to Victoria about thirty-five years ago. For over twenty-five years Mr. Cullison was associated with the Marine Department, having retired about two years ago.

MYSTERY FIRE DOES DAMAGE AT PARKSVILLE

NANAIMO, July 29.—Fire on Sunday evening destroyed a large barn on Shellybrook Farm, near Parksville, owned by Mr. Fred Shelly. The loss is estimated at between $5,000 and $6,000, partly covered by insurance.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, as no one, as far as is known, was around the premises at the time. The fire was first seen by berry pickers, who are camped in Mr. Shelly's field, but nothing could be done to arrest the progress of the flames, which within half an hour razed the large structure to the ground. Luckily all the animals were out of the barn at the time, with the exception of a small calf, which was cremated.

The barn had been used for dances on a number of occasions, and included in Mr. Shelly's loss is a player-piano, which was to have been used for a dance advertised for Friday next.

DANCE AT SOOKE

SOOKE, July 27.—Last Friday evening a most enjoyable and well-attended dance was held in Sooke Hall, under the auspices of the Sooke orchestra. Refreshments and ice cream were served, the latter being much in demand, as the evening was very warm. The orchestra boasted a new piece, a saxophone, which was voted by all a great improvement to the already excellent music provided.

Almost one-fifth of the revenue from grand opera is said to go into scenery, costumes, etc.

Hundreds Enjoy Water Sports at Elk Lake

ROYAL OAK, July 28.—Several hundred people collected at Hamsterley Lakeside on Sunday afternoon when another of the popular Sunday band concerts, inaugurated by Mr. Pease some time ago, was given by the Boys' Naval Brigade Band. A splendid programme was given under Mr. Rayner and was enthusiastically received by the audience. Surf-riding and diving from the new 20 foot diving tower were added attractions during the afternoon.

Famous Barn, Noted For Dancing Floor, Is Destroyed by Fire

PARKSVILLE, July 29.—On Sunday night at about eight o'clock the well-known barn on the Shellybrook Farm was totally destroyed by fire. All the cattle were removed excepting one calf. Unfortunately, it was impossible to get the pianola out of the loft.

Mr. F. Shelly, the owner, has held many dances in the hay loft which have been great successes. The dance which was held there on July 1 had over three hundred attendants, and it was with great regret that many people learned of the disaster.

It took but a few minutes before the fire had got beyond all control, and although many people rushed to the scene they were of no use.

Hold Garden Party

On Thursday the members of the Ganges Chapter, I.O.D.E., held a most successful garden party at "Barnsbury," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wilson, who very kindly helped in every way and lent both their house and grounds to the organization for the entertainment of the very large number of guests, who, in spite of the great heat, attended the function. Mrs. Griffiths, president of the Provincial Chapter, who kindly came from Victoria to address the members on the aims and objects of the I.O.D.E., spoke most interestingly of the duties of the chapters and the Girl Guide movement, in which she strongly advocated, if possible, the forming of a company on the island. Mrs. Griffiths also dealt with the financial question, and explained the difficulties in the way of reducing the per capita cost of membership. Mrs. Curtis Sampson, regant of the Municipal Chapter, said a few words on the subject of child welfare and quoted several instances of the work done in this matter by the chapters. To the vote of thanks tendered to Mrs. Griffiths for her kindness in coming to speak to the members, she graciously replied that she would, at any time, be glad to do anything to help the Ganges Chapter in any way within her power. Tea, under the management of Mrs. P. Beech, Miss Beddis and Miss Royal, was served at prettily decorated tables in the drawing-room. The ladies who presided over the four tables were Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Norman Wilson, Miss Royal and Miss Doris Taylor. For the tea hour, Mrs. D. S. Harris had arranged a short programme of music, which was greatly appreciated. Those who kindly gave their services were Mrs. A. W. Collins, Mrs. Stuart Beech, Mrs. H. A. Robinson, Miss Norah Humphreys, Mr. P. Lowther and Master Jack Ringwood. Mrs. Frank Crofton and Mrs. T. F. Speed were in charge of the ice creams. Miss Cussens did a good business with her fortune telling, in which she was assisted by Mrs. Clark. From early in the day a tennis tournament, organized by Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Speed and Mr. V. Case Morris, continued till evening. The winners were Mrs. Frank Corbett and Mr. Desmond Crofton, and Messrs. T. Borradaile and Gordon Best. The chapter wishes to thank Messrs. W. E. Scott, T. F. Speed and D. S. Harris, who kindly gave their services in driving parties in their cars to the garden party. After expenses were paid, the sum of over $50 was cleared for the chapter's funds.

SIR HENRY THORNTON WILL HUNT COUGAR

He Will be Engaged for a Couple of Days This Week in Woods Near Sooke

When, Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C.N.R., arrives here this week he is to have the opportunity that he has long looked forward to of spending a few days in the woods on this Island and enjoy a hunting and fishing holiday. He will be accompanied by Mr. C. P. W. Schwengers, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Ald. A. E. Todd, and will make the vicinity of Sooke the rendezvous. The hope is that with this as a base it will be possible to locate a panther, which Sir Henry has long had a desire to add to the trophies of his gun.

Until the present visit to the Coast he has not found it possible to spare the time from his official duties as head of the railway to gratify his desires in this direction.

ARBITRATING VALUE OF LOCATING LINE

Judge Lampman Will Visit Location at Sooke Before Deciding the Point

Acting in the capacity of arbitrator in a dispute between Mr. Alex. Helgesen, of Sooke, and the Vancouver Island Power Company, Judge Lampman sat yesterday morning taking evidence in the matter. The dispute is with reference to the new power line that the company is carrying from Jordan River to the city, and which crosses the farm of Mr. Helgesen.

The company asks only for an easement over the property with the right to erect the necessary poles and string wire, and also the right to enter upon the land at any time for the purpose of repairs or alterations.

His Honor as arbitrator, after hearing the evidence, agreed to visit the location and inspect the situation on the ground. Mr. H. B. Robertson, K.C., and Mr. A. D. King appeared for the company, while Mr. J. A. Aikman represented Mr. Helgesen.

There were five poles to be erected on the farm. Of these two were on cleared land, and the others on bush or stumpy land. The company was agreeable to allow $125 for the rights that were sought, although it felt that this was a larger amount than should be necessary. The usual amount that was allowed was $20 for each pole on cleared land, and $10 a pole elsewhere.

The company was, moreover, ready to agree that when the land was being cleared care would be taken by the company employees with respect to the line to see that no damage was done by the blowing out of stumps. This would be at the expense of the company.

On behalf of Mr. Helgesen it was contended that the line of wire passed between the house and the barn, and that there was danger that if during a storm the wire was interfered with it might blow over on the barn and set fire to the premises.

The company officials thought that there was but very little danger from this. It was also set forth that there was an advantage to the owner, inasmuch as in time, with the development there, the company would be in a position to provide power for lighting and other uses.

Real estate and insurance men who were called to give evidence testified to the fact that there was no extra fire hazard in consequence of the situation that was to be created by the carrying of the line where it was proposed.

It was also testified that after visiting the location they were satisfied that the offer of the company was a fair one.

OAK BAY COUNCIL ALLOTS PARK SITE

Historical Association Will Erect Tablet on Gonzales Heights—Routine Business

The Oak Bay Council, at a business session last night, agreed to allot a space of twenty-five square feet in its five-acre park on Gonzales Heights to the Historical Association of British Columbia, which proposes to erect a tablet on a site of historic interest. Mr. C. C. Pemberton, on behalf of the historical organization, appeared before the Council, and his request for this portion of the park for this specific purpose was granted.

The Council appointed Major K. B. Spurgin, well-known Victoria architect, as judge during the racing meet at the Willows Park, which opens today and continues for seven days.

A letter was received from Mr. Robert Cassidy, K. C., lawyer for Mrs. Florence Ealanor Rattenbury, asking that the water at the family residence be turned on in the interest of health. The Council had referred the matter to its solicitor, who advised that as her husband, Mr. F. M. Rattenbury, owner of the property, had written the municipality asking that the water be turned off, the Council could not accede to Mrs. Rattenbury's request.

Several complaints were received from ratepayers in respect to condition of streets in Oak Bay, and these were referred to the works committee of the Council.

A large number of routine matters came before the Council, and some of these were disposed of, while others were laid over until the next Council meeting, which takes place in two weeks' time.

G.A.U.V. MAKES PLEA FOR FEDERAL SURVEY

Premier King Urged to Take Early Action—Cash Bonus Is Issued—Convention in November

"That this Provincial Command of the Grand Army of United Veterans, having read the recommendation of the Rolay Commission for compulsory employment of discharged veterans in industries, desires at the present time to impress upon the federal government its own responsibilities in the matter of giving employment to these men; we therefore recommend a complete survey of all government establishments and that disabled men be placed in all positions which a disabled veteran can fill."

The foregoing is the text of a resolution which the members of the British Columbia Provincial Command of the G. A. U. V. has sent forward to Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, federal Premier, together with a request that he take early action in the matter.

At the quarterly meeting of the British Columbia Provincial Command of the G. A. U. V., a letter was read from Hugh McLeod, Dominion secretary of this organization, pointing out the probability of an early federal election and urging that the question of payment of a cash bonus to all who served in the late war should be made an issue, especially in view of the success of the American Legion in pushing this matter to a successful conclusion in the United States. The Provincial Command and Vancouver branch now have the matter under advisement.

Annual Session in Vancouver

In accordance with a resolution passed at the quarterly meeting of the British Columbia Command, it has been decided to hold the annual convention of the Grand Army of United Veterans in Vancouver on November 1 and 2.

Originally it was intended that the convention should take place in Kamloops, but owing to unfortunate circumstances it has been deemed advisable to change the venue to Vancouver.

Last year the G. W. V. A. held a most successful convention at Victoria, delegates being present from all parts of the Province, and it is anticipated that this year's gathering will be even more notable with visitors in attendance from almost every city of importance in British Columbia and a number of the smaller towns.

An increase of twelve per cent in membership over that of the previous quarter is announced by Secretary Crawford, and this is regarded as eminently satisfactory.

SAYS CITY'S FUTURE LIES WITH CITIZENS

Mr. B. C. Nicholas Tells Kiwanians Victoria Is Dependent Upon the Island as Basis of Prosperity

In a brilliant address before members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club yesterday noon in the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanian B. C. Nicholas declared that the future of Victoria rested entirely in the hands of its citizens. The city was dependent upon the development of Vancouver Island as the basis of her future prosperity. He spoke of the great natural wealth that Vancouver Island was endowed with, and urged that the Kiwanis Club take as one of its objectives during the coming year the creation of popular sentiment that the future of the city of Victoria depended upon the development of the Island, and that all its citizens should support measures which would bring that about.

The speaker traced the development of the Island and alluded to its tremendous resources in the products of the mine, farm, sea and forest. He said that Vancouver Island possessed in abundance the raw material for which there was a growing world need. He mentioned the opportunities for industrial expansion which lay within reach of Victoria, the establishment of adequate connection with the resourceful west coast district, which was exclusively tributary to this city.

Mr. Nicholas referred to the value to be derived from assisting the people of the Saanich peninsula in the profitable development of their land, and saw an opening for progress in the execution of the Greater Victoria scheme upon such a basis that all municipalities would benefit.

In conclusion, the speaker affirmed that Victorians were masters of their own situation and that this city would become just what they made it. He observed that no city on this continent could stand still. If the people of Victoria were prepared to work together and willing to sacrifice their time and energy in community service, they had it in their power to make this city one of the most progressive, prosperous and influential places on the Coast.

This question of club objective is being managed by the Kiwanis Club through the committee consisting of the following: Mr. C. Jack McDowell (chairman), Messrs. B. C. Nicholas, Mark W. Graham, Harold Hewlett and Howard F. Dack, and these Kiwanians will consider Mr. Nicholas' suggestions and make a report thereon later.

A substantial increase in the number of students at the Victoria High School will mark the opening of the new school year, the City School Board learned at a special meeting yesterday afternoon. The trustees appointed two yesterday, and will advertise for two more. There will be no difficulty in providing the necessary accommodation, it was stated. The High School will have this Autumn the greatest registration of any time in its history.

The two appointments to the staff yesterday were Miss Hazel McConnell and Mr. F. L. Campbell. Miss McConnell is the daughter of Mr. T. P. McConnell, of this city, and was educated here prior to going to Vancouver to attend the University of British Columbia, from which she graduated. She has been on the staff of the King Edward High School, Vancouver, and will teach French and mathematics here. Mr. Campbell is an instructor at the Sprott-Shaw School. He will instruct in science.

The trustees examined the entrance and matriculation results yesterday, and expressed themselves as well satisfied.

COLONIAL SECRETARY EXPLAINS EMPIRE DELEGATES' AFFAIR

Amery, "that they must take the British Empire as they find it and we cannot diminish the status of our own Dominions merely in order to meet the conveniences of other powers."

Mr. Lloyd George Agrees

Lloyd George agreed as to the importance of the matter of Dominion representation. He pointed out the very great difference in the position of the Dominions as a result of their sacrifices in the Great War. It was very important, he continued, that the Dominions should feel that whatever policy was to be decided upon "we should take them into our councils as far as geographical conditions warranted."

After a brief reference to the Lausanne controversy, Mr. Thomas said the very fact that in the Canadian Parliament the Prime Minister of one of our Dominions actually got up and discussed three alternatives, one of which was separation that in itself was not only disturbing but ought to convince all members that this was a subject which must be handled, not only seriously, but free from all party considerations of any kind. Today's debate proved, he continued, that on Empire questions all parties could unite.

Reads Telegram

The Colonial Secretary proceeded to read a telegram he had sent to the Dominions on June 23, in which he had mentioned the government's concern regarding the inadequacy of the present system of consideration with self-governing parts of the Empire on matters on foreign policy and general Imperial interests. The dispatch said:

"We fully accept the principle of the necessity for effective arrangement for continuous consultation in all important matters of common Imperial concern and for such necessary concerted action founded on consultation as the several governments may determine."

The dispatch also pointed out the difficulties in connection with the foreign policy conference and the fate of conclusions arrived at on subjects of political controversy which were likely to be reversed through changes of governments.

The dispatch invited views and said the government was of an open mind and merely exploring the situation.

Never More Frank Statement

Mr. Thomas put it to the House that there had never been a more frank statement from the British Government to the Dominions. Referring to the question of representation at the present conference, Mr. Thomas said:

"Anybody with a knowledge of European difficulties arising out of the Dawes report would be the first to admit that we could not turn that conference into a mass meeting. We cabled to the Dominions, pointing out the difficulties and asking their help. We made it perfectly clear that upon no consideration would they be committed by a representative of the British Government without a full discussion of the agreement. All accepted it except Canada.

"The difficulty with Canada was caused—we may as well be perfectly frank in this matter, and it is a good thing, and it is the strength of the British Empire that we can be frank with each other without unpleasantness—Premier King was very frank, and said to us: 'No; I believe accepting anything less than the principle agreed to at Versailles is lowering our status.'"

Daily Consultations

The Colonial Secretary proceeded to describe in full the consultations taking place daily between the Dominions and the principal members of the Government. He then said the position as regards representation was, nevertheless, not satisfactory and the present arrangement was not a solution. They had determined to alter it, he said. Therefore, they had invited the Dominions to a conference which was hoped to take place in October.

Before the close of the debate Mr. Thomas said complete replies had not yet been received, and therefore he could not lay the papers on the table. All evidence, he said, showed the conference would be welcome. The Government wished to explore the whole situation with a view of averting difficulties which, "unfortunately, we have had to deal with hitherto." The discussion would recognize the fact, he added, that the Dominions' interests must be considered and looked after.

"It must be shown to outsiders that domestic differences are not going to weaken us. The Government believes the conferences will be a genuine attempt to put Imperial unity on a sound basis."

The vote was agreed to.

Tells of Remarkable Experience at Duncan

Sister Mary Anna, Who Leaves Today for Hospital at Juneau, Alaska, Recalls Unique Incident Which Illustrates Faith Which Inspires Members of Religious Order—Other Members of Order Are Leaving for North on Temporary Missions

YEARS ago, when the Sisters of St. Ann were making pioneer history in the Duncan district, the place occupied a lonely and solitary position. There were no trains running up the Island at that time. Victoria, which stood for civilization in those days, was accessible only by canoe. Provisioning was uncertain, subject to chance, changes of weather, the occasional help of friends. Vegetables and fruit could be grown if the season was favorable. But the season was not always kind. And, moreover, flour and milk and eggs were needed to supplement the diet of the little children who were the nuns' charges at the isolated orphanage.

Things had come to rather pinched straits one day, and the Sister in charge felt that the time had come to ask for help from higher sources than man. So she gathered her little charges together, told them of the home's dire need of food, and sent them out to pray. From the window she watched the boys and girls as they knelt in the grass, with reverent eyes uplifted and clasped hands, making their fervent appeal to Heaven. Suddenly, to the astonishment of the good Sister, a great salmon fell in their midst, seemingly out of the sky. The children, completely imbued with the faith which they had always been taught to hold, were not a whit surprised at this immediate answer to their prayers. But had they sought the source of this gift they would have seen, as the good nun did, that it had been dropped by an eagle, which was still hovering overhead. But even so, to her as to the children it was God's answer to prayer.

Faith and Love

It is in this spirit of faith that Sister Mary Anna, superintendent of nurses at St. Joseph's Hospital for the past twelve years, is leaving today to take charge of the 55-bed hospital at Juneau, Alaska. Sister Mary Anna vouched for the truth of the above story yesterday, when she told a Colonist reporter about this and other remarkable experiences which the members of the order have had from time to time in their pioneering work. They have endured terrible hardships and privations, but Divine help has never failed them. Confident of this, she goes to her new task trustingly. She will be greatly missed at St. Joseph's by the patients and nurses alike, principally among the latter, to whom she is guide, philosopher and friend. Since she went to St. Joseph's, in 1913, more than two hundred girls have graduated through her hands, and nearly half this number still in training in the hospital will feel that they are losing a personal friend in her departure for the North.

Sister Mary Anna received her training in the great teaching order of St. Ann at he Mother House in Lachine, P.Q. She came West in 1893, and was stationed at St. Ann's Academy, Vancouver, for eleven years, engaged in work which revealed her special abilities for the training of girls. So she was sent back East again to take a post-graduate course whch would equip her still better for this work.

Expert Offices

This is a department of their teaching work on which the Order places great importance. Education to them does not consist merely in the memorizing of certain facts from books of physics and chemistry, the reading of certain excerpts from literature. Girls passing through the schools of St. Ann's come under the influence of specially-trained Sisters who have to take charge of the moral and social training of their pupils. These Sisters, although without any active duties in the classroom, have the supervision of the boarders, and one or more of them will be found in every academy conducted by the Order.

Sister Mary Anna devoted two years' study to this course, and was then sent back to Victoria, first to take charge of the Junior, then of the Senior Department of St. Ann's Academy.

In 1913 she was transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital as assistant superintendent of nurses under Sister Mary Gertrude. On the latter's death two years later she succeeded to the superintendency, and has held that position ever since. With complete supervision of the lecture course given the nurses in training, she has herself undertaken the ethical and social training of the girls, an office in which she has more than justified her selection for the position of great trust and responsibility given her twelve years ago. Her responsibilities in the new field at Juneau will be even greater, as in addition to having complete charge of the hospital she will have certain supervisory powers over the parochial school attached thereto. The Juneau hospital, being in the Diocese of Alaska, comes under Bishop Crimont.

Several other members of the religious Order are going north at the same time as Sister Mary Anna, although they will make only a temporary stay. The Mother General is leaving today also, intending to make a tour of inspection. Accompanying her will be Sister Mary Frances and Sister Mary Rose Elida, the former having been transferred to Dawson, the latter to the school at far-away Holy Cross to take the place of Sister Mary Winifred.

All are attended by the best wishes of their many friends here.

taken towards advancing the price of bread was indicated last night to The Colonist by a prominent member of the trade in the city. "The big and smaller bakers will act as a unit in any decision that might be made," he said.

While Victoria bakers have as yet taken no definite steps to increase the price of bread, advances in bread prices have taken place in Vancouver and Saskatoon, and other cities are likely to fall in line with the course of these two places, on account of the advanced prices in flour.

Placing of Orders

Bakers are reluctant to place big orders in the event that there might be a sudden drop, and at the same time fear that the soaring tendency of grain may continue for some days, in which event they would have to pay higher prices than if they bought now.

London, England, is also having its troubles over the present wheat and flour situation. The price of a four-pound loaf of bread there will be raised on August 4 from 9 pence to 9 1-2 pence, according to a decision arrived at by the London Master Bakers' Protection Society, in consequence of the recent advances in the price of flour.

The secretary of the London Master Bakers' Protection Society states that the peak in the price of flour has not been reached on the flour market in London, and that further increases are likely. It is unknown at present, however, whether the price of bread will be raised again, he observes. The price of the four-pound loaf recently went up from 8 1-2 pence to 9 pence.

Prairie Farmers' Views

The London Flour Millers' Association announced several days ago that the official price of standard grade flour had advanced a shilling to 45 shillings and 6 pence per cwt. for the London area. This was the fourth similar advance in eight days.

Prairie farmers who are visiting in the city are not feeling downcast over the price of wheat, as they point out that this is the first time in two years that they have been able to dispose of their grain at a profitable figure. Last year they assert that they lost money, for wheat went below $1 per bushel. Some of them have sold some of this year's crop which is still in the growing stage for $1.50 a bushel for delivery next May. Others here have been selling their crop for future delivery as prices have been soaring during the past few weeks. It is possible, however, that the average agriculturist will be little better off, for while he may get high prices for his produce, the average crop will not be large.

If no immediate improvement is shown, the Canadian crop might possibly run as low as 225,000,000 bushels, which is just a little better than half of last year's, which was 470,000,000 bushels, Winnipeg bankers estimate. Dry weather in parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan are blamed for the prospective shortage in the Canadian wheat crop this season.

Claims Situation Critical

Supporting an eat-less-bread campaign, The London Daily News quotes a world authority on the distribution of wheat to the effect that the world is faced with what is perhaps one of the most critical situations in the memory of man.

This expert bases his statements on the daily reports received from all parts of the world regarding the wheat situation. He says that reports show without exception that production has dropped heavily in all producing countries, especially Canada.

Other authorities in the Old Country, however, do not regard the situation as particularly serious.

London bakers are urged, however, not to buy too large stocks at the present prevailing prices, as such action tends to strengthen the hands of speculators by creating further price increases.

Outlook More Hopeful

WINNIPEG, July 29.—While more moisture is required in many districts of Saskatchewan and Alberta, generous rains during the past week have aided the crops materially, and the outlook is more hopeful, according to a crop report issued by the agriculture department of the C.P.R. here today. Cutting of rye has commenced at quite a number of points in Manitoba and harvesting will be general about August 18 or 20. Judging from the present degree of maturity the crop should be generally ready for harvesting in Saskatchewan and Alberta between August 20 and 25.

Reporting on conditions in the Prairie provinces and British Columbia, the report states:

"There is now plenty of moisture in Manitoba districts and with moderate temperatures prevailing conditions are ideal for the proper filling of the grain.

"Saskatchewan—Large areas in Southern Saskatchewan experienced good rains since the last crop report. Further rains can improve the situation in districts suffering from drought and farmers still hope for fair crop returns.

"Alberta—Good rains over the Northwestern areas have greatly improved the crop outlook and showers have occurred over many other section.

"Conditions are good along the Edmonton, Dunvegan and British Columbia Railway and early wheat and oats are heading out.

"Growing conditions are favorable in British Columbia and tree fruits are doing well and harvesting will be ten days to two weeks earlier. Picking of small fruits is now in full swing and the crop is considered fair.

Grain Operator's Opinion

CHICAGO, July 29.—Wheat at two dollars a bushel, corn from $1.25 to $1.50 and oats from 60 to 65 cents are a likelihood, according to James A. Patten, the grain operator.

"We are going to have a situation on this crop directly reverse to that of the last," he said. "Over-supply will give way to talk of shortage. After this year prices will have reached such a high level that farmers will put in every acre to wheat that they possibly can sow and over-supply may again result.

"But for the next twelve months buyers will have to bid up for wheat they want.

"The price may not go immediately higher but Europe will buy all the wheat she can get from this country and this absorption will bring about a strong situation," he said.

"Will Benefit Dominion"

WINNIPEG, July 29.—"As most of our wheat is for export, the increase in price is bound to benefit the Dominion as a whole enormously and $1.50 wheat means not only prosperity for the farmer, but for the whole country," declared J. J. Robinson, a member of the Board of Grain Commissioners, who is en route to Regina to get information on the crop situation.

"I know full well that before long we shall hear the usual cry that the increase in wheat prices is putting up the cost of the 'breakfast tables of the world.' Wheat at $1.50 will perhaps make an increase in the weekly bread bill of an average Canadian family of only 60 cents," Mr. Robinson said.

Speaking of crop conditions, Mr. Robinson said: "No man living can forecast a crop which will not be harvested for another month. Any estimate now is a matter of guesswork, pure and simple."

WINNIPEG, July 29.—Cloudy, with light showers in some parts of the Prairies, but cool and windy, are the reports tonight favorable to grain. H. S. Arkell, Dominion Livestock Commissioner, arrived tonight from an extended tour over southern sections of the three Prairie Provinces and declares he saw no rust and did not hear of any blight over a distance of 700 miles long. A good average production, he thought not an unfair estimate at this stage. This, together with the C.N.R. weekly crop report suggesting that reports of damage have been exaggerated, have left an impression rather unfavorable to United States crop experts who have been sending reports of black rust in Manitoba. Of course, reports all over the Prairies suggest that the downpour of Saturday night washed away any traces of rust which may have existed.

Urges Rust Inquiry

CHICAGO, July 29.—A general demand that the Canadian Government make good its threat to investigate the rust reports in wheat sent in by American crop experts from the Province of Manitoba is being made by the Chicago grain trade.

Crop expert B. W. Snow, whose reports of the development of rust in that province have brought denials from the Canadian Department of Agriculture, returned home today after a week's inspection trip, and confirmed his wire reports that rust was to be found over the greater part of the southern half of Manitoba. He said he would be glad to co-operate with the Canadian authorities.

Trade Is Mystified

Why the Canadian Government should want to investigate reports that rust had developed, when they have officially confirmed every claim made by Mr. Snow, is what mystified the Chicago trade. There have been no claims of damage made by anyone so far. The Grain Futures Administration of the United States' Department of Agriculture has copies of all the reports sent in by Mr. Snow and also the Canadian reports, and it is in a position to act immediately if official action is requested.

An official Canadian report, trying to belittle the claims of American crop experts, claiming that the Manitoba crop would not mature for a month or six weeks, caused increased apprehension that damage would result among Chicago grain traders during the day.

Observer Makes Estimate

R. Q. Cromwell, another local crop observer, was at Winnipeg today, and estimated the Alberta wheat crop at 45,000,000 bushels, Saskatchewan, at 110,000,000 bushels, and Manitoba at 45,000,000 bushels; a total of 200,000,000 bushels for the three provinces, compared with 450,000,000 bushels harvested last year, when Manitoba had a crop of 133,000,000 bushels.

George M. Lecount, in a message from Medicine Hat, said the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan have experienced the worst drought he has seen in eighteen years. The wheat crop over the greater part of Eastern Alberta will do well to make seed. The Edmonton territory is fairly promising, but the area is not large. Alberta wheat acreage is 5,955,000 and a yield of seven bushels per acre would be liberal, he says.

ROTTED OAK TREE SNAPS AND FALLS ON ROOF OF HOUSE

While Mr. D. M. Kenway was asleep in his home at 1146 Rockland Avenue on Saturday night, an oak tree, about two feet in diameter, crashed upon the roof directly over his bedroom, but fortunately the branches absorbed sufficient of the blow to prevent the trunk smashing in the roof. Damage was confined to the eaves, which were carried away.

"The tree was badly rotted and broke off about ten feet from the ground," explained Mr. Kenway last night. "It was about forty feet high and came down on the roof directly over where I was sleeping. I thought it was an earthquake at first, but then we thought of the tree, which we have had to cut back on a number of occasions owing to it sagging onto the house. The tree was removed by the use of hoisting tackle. The fact that a fork of the tree broke under the heavy impact shows how brittle the trunk was. The tree was at the back of the house, and there are two more at the front, which we are having attended to."

A theory that electricity may have caused the break is being investigated.

Raid Incident Settled

BERLIN, July 29.—The Russo-German raid incident has been settled by mutual agreement, the text of which has not yet been published, but it is stated that the principle of extra territoriality demanded by Russia for her trade delegation has not been granted. Certain members of the delegation and their offices have "been given extra territorial character," however

Fashions and Foibles

By Shirley Shaw

Mah jong with its east wind, its white dragons, its four seasons and the great wall has brought to popular notice the picturesqueness of the straight Chinese blouse.

All sorts of things influence dress—a world war, an interest in sports, a new way of cutting the hair, the introduction of an old game. With mah jong has come an appreciation of things Chinese—Chinese colors, embroideries worked in jade and bamboo, coral and mandarin yellow, splendid blue and carnelian, Chinese styles in coats and collars and straight blouses such as Manchu ladies wear. Many women wear the Chinese blouses in georgette crepe, crepe de Chine or cotton voile embroidered or beaded for their mah jong parties.

NOTED IMPERSONATOR WILL GIVE RECITAL

Dr. James Henry McLaren, noted author and impersonator, accompanied by Mrs. McLaren, is spending some days in Victoria, and has arranged to deliver his masterly impersonation of "Lincoln and Roosevelt," in costume, in the Metropolitan Church on Thursday evening of this week, July 31.

Dr. McLaren is said to possess the highest credentials of any lecturer on impersonation on the continent.

Among the names of those from whom his testimonials have come are the following: Dr. Jacob Gould Schurman, David Starr Jordan, Jesse Millspaugh, Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, Dr. Frank Crane, Ella Wheeler Wilcox and others of equal note.

The press speaks of him thus: "Unanimously the greatest entertainer who ever appeared here." "The entire audience rose to its feet voting Dr. McLaren the favorite attraction of the entire Chautauqua programme," says The Red Bluff (Calif.) Daily News.

Dr. Chas. Cooke Woods, a noted Lincoln student, says: "I have heard Bishop Fowler's famous lecture on Lincoln; have heard and seen John Drinkwater's great play, 'Abraham Lincoln,' but never have I heard these personalities and their messages to the world so effectively brought out as by Dr. James Henry McLaren, in his impersonation."

ONE YEAR TO LIVE

CHAPTER LV
A City of Delight

Elise went straight to the Hotel de Paris, and secured a room overlooking the glory of the bay.

She had slept on the train, and as it was her first visit to Monte Carlo, refreshed by a bath and breakfast, she set out.

There was a gentle breeze from the sea, which softened the heat of the blazing sun. The terraces were alive with wonderfully gowned women, with smart men. The great Casino was like a fairy palace reared in a dream; while the great hills behind shimmered lazily, blue-edged against the sky.

She leaned on the balustrade watching the drifting, brilliant tide of humanity and she did not notice the approach of the two men through the crowd until they stood before her.

Brunel and Mordac! Her heart seemed to stand still for a moment. Then she smiled.

"First I meet Mordac—then La Phalene. What else could I hope for, even in this beautiful place?" said Brunel.

Mordac shot a glance at him. "A compliment in which you include me, monsieur." And then, to Elise: "I suppose you are staying at the Paris?"

"Yes, I got in this morning. And you?"

"Oh—I have a little villa up at Beausoleil." You can see it from the Route de la Turbie. It stands beyond the Riviera Palace. Brunel is staying with me."

Brunel suggested lunch at the Cafe de Paris.

"I would rather not, if you don't mind. I am tired after my journey, and I shall lunch quietly and lie down during the afternoon."

"A most admirable decision," declared Mordac. "Then you will be fresh for play this evening. You will go along to the rooms?"

Elise admitted that she had contemplated doing so.

"I knew it," continued Mordac. "We shall dine at my villa, and drive down to the Casino afterwards. Please don't refuse. I have some interesting people coming, and I have the finest chef in the district. Besides, you will need somebody to guide you when you plunge into that gilded hall of chance—hein?"

Elise could not refuse, and so it was arranged that Mordac's car should call for her at seven.

She lunched and afterwards sat for a while in the hotel vestibule. As she was lounging back in a deep chair, she recognized something familiar in the svelt, feline walk of an ultra smart woman who was crossing the floor. She stared. The woman turned and recognized her at once. She was Lolette.

"Oh—la, la!" Her slim white hand was extended mincingly. "To meet you—here! I thought you had run away to a farm, or something. How long have you been here?"

She dropped into a chair beside Elise. A casual observer would have concluded from her manner that they were life-long friends.

They talked, Lolette animatedly, Elise in a reserved fashion which Lolette apparently did not observe. Lolette elicited from Elise that she had just met Mordac and Brunel, and was dining with them and afterwards going to the Casino.

"I shall come," asserted Lolette calmly. "They will need another. I shall telephone Mordac at once." Lolette went off and telephoned, and there was a nasty glint in her eyes when she returned.

She said drily. "He was rather surprised—that Mordac. I think, cherie, that we are going to be a very jolly party."

CHAPTER LVI
A Silent Clash

Mordac's Isotta Fraschini duly called for Elise and Lolette and whirled them to Mordac's villa beyond Beausoleil. Lolette was toiletted with particular care. Her amazing hair stood out like a great halo of yellow fire. Her gown was blue and cerise, low in front; at the back as far as her waistline. About her throat was a belt of pearls. Her hands flashed diamonds.

Elise was in black, a svelt gown by Paquin, relieved by crimson, setting off her blue eyes and jetty hair.

The greeting between Mordac and Brunel and Lolette was as the first clash of duellists' blades. They smiled, and spoke soft words, but the malice of Lolette and the discomfiture of the men crept out the stronger because of it.

The party numbered a dozen, and, as La Phalene, Elise found herself welcomed among them.

There was an Austrian Grand Duke with a lady of great name and greater notoriety; the son of one of America's wealthiest men in charge of a star of the British musical comedy world; an Italian count and his wife, who, before she became a countess had been a dancer, and who, consequently eyed La Phalene with some jealous appraisement; an estancero from the Argentine, the owner of countless cattle and limitless wealth, with an olive-skinned woman whose dark eyes were sombre as the night; Brunel and Elise, Mordac and Lolette.

As Mordac had promised, the dinner was impeccable and the wines were chosen surely.

Elise enjoyed it. It was impossible to sit at the polished silver and glass-laden table, with its flowers and its lights, to listen to the gay conversation, to look out through the windows to the deepening night and feel unhappy and afraid.

Two hours drifted by. They had eaten and they had smoked and lounged and talked and laughed. Far below them the lights of Monte Carlo were gleaming and winking, living eyes of temptation beckoning them to the footstools of chance.

The cars were brought round and they packed in four to a car, Elise and Lolette with Brunel and Mordac.

There was some little delay at the Casino while Mordac obtained tickets for Elise and Lolette. They asked her for how long she required a ticket, and at Mordac's suggestion, she said a month. Lolette was handed one for the same period.

"I think we will play in the Salle Schmidt tonight," said Mordac, "so if you all have your fortune ready we will see what we can do to break the bank. Come along."

They passed through the silent, padded doors into the Salle Schmidt.

JUNIOR VOCALISTS APPEAR IN RECITAL

Miss Kate McGregor's Pupils Give Successful Programme—Gift for Teacher

A most successful "closing recital" was given by Miss Kate McGregor's junior class of vocal pupils on Saturday. Although several of the young singers made their first appearance before an audience, they acquitted themselves most creditably, and it was noticeable that throughout the words and music had been memorized, while the choruses were undertaken without baton. Accompaniments were very ably played by Mrs. Crawford Fennell. Miss McGregor during the course of the evening was presented with a lovely leather handbag, the gift of her class, a recognition which she most gracefully acknowledged.

Among those who took part were: Stella Jaynes, Phyllis Elliott, Rona Gilmer, Lucy Barker, Vera Raven, Mrs. Cookman, Lillian Woodward, Mrs. Shanks, Annie Brown, Mrs. Fennell, Eva Mitchell, Mrs. Lloyd, Mrs. Fowler, Norma Neville.

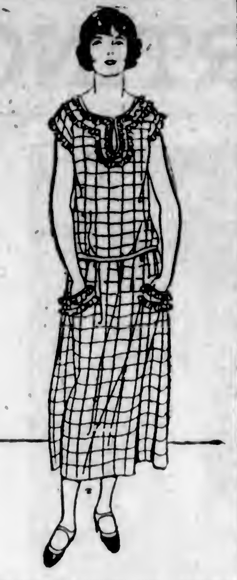
WHITE CROSS-BARRED MUSLIN SHOWS TINY PLAIN RUFFLES



Extremely youthful and appealing in effect is the simple frock sketched above. It is shown in one of the smarter sports shops, and is favored by clients of discrimination.

The material is white cross-barred muslin, and the frock is a straight-line affair with a string belt.

The only trimming consists of tiny ruffles of plain white muslin, picoted at the edges.

TENNIS CLUB WILL HOLD FLANNEL DANCE

Social Function in Connection With Tournament Will Take Place Tomorrow at Alexandra House

In connection with the tournament for the open championships of B.C. being run all this week on the courts of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club, a flannel dance will be held at the Alexandra House under the auspices of the club tomorrow, July 31, commencing at 9 o'clock.

A committee consisting of Mrs. Hodgins, Capt. Denniston, Mr. A. N. Robertson and Mr. H. S. Flett has been appointed to look after the pleasure and comfort of all attending, and the dance promises to be an outstanding social success, and a successful culmination of what is anticipated to be one of the best tournaments ever held on the courts of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club. Heaton's orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

Tickets are now going rapidly, and may be had on application to any member of the committee.

BISHOP OFFERS HIS CONGRATULATION TO SISTERS AT JUBILEE

In connection with the jubilee celebration at St. Ann's on Monday, speaking to the pioneer sisters and congratulating the order on the names of the pioneer bishops and priests "who had finished their work here and gone before," Bishop O'Donnell said:

"Dare I speak for those who are not of my faith? Those makers of the city who have gone before, those noble men who laid the foundation of your city, board and strong and deep and lasting, men who were pioneers, who knew how to appreciate what work was done by the self-sacrifice of the Sisters of St. Ann, men who recognized that the sisters devoted their lives to suffering humanity regardless of creed or nationality. As long as there was by a Sister of St. Ann they knew that human misery would be relieved. It is but the meed of justice of these pioneers. I dare, therefore, in their home, congratulate the sisters who loved them and who were loved by them."

AMPUTATION CLUB HOLDS BIG OUTING

Disabled Veterans Have Merry Time at Fete at Experimental Farm—Children Enjoy Sports

The Amputations Association of the Great War held its annual picnic at the grounds of the Experimental Farm, Sidney. The event was a great success, everybody thoroughly enjoying the outing. The sports drew the largest number of entrants for each event, but the race which drew the largest number of entries was the race for children of four years old or under and a very keen and closely contested race was the result.

Four years old and under (eight prizes)—1, Josephine Dobbie; 2, Eileen Dunn; 3, Fred Sargent; 4, Violet Ockenden; 5, Georgie Stock; 6, Florrie Pegg; 7, G. Tucker; 8, Amy Cashmore.

Five to eight years (three prizes), girls—1, Doreen Wilson; 2, Margaret Pegg; 3, Gladys Ockenden.

Five to eight years (three prizes), boys—1, Arthur McCoy; 2, Lewis Smith; 3, John Luker.

Nine to twelve years (three prizes), girls—1, Ruth Shepherd; 2, Helen Ockenden; 3, Dorothy Warren.

Nine to twelve years (three prizes), boys—1, Frank Hooper; 2, Harry Ferrer; 3, Fred Hooper.

Mrs. Dobbie carried off the married ladies' prize with Mrs. Sargent second, and Miss May Warren was first and Miss Elsie Smith second in the single ladies' event.

There were races for members of the Amputation Club and they showed some amazing speed despite their handicaps.

COLUMBIA THEATRE "Crime doesn't pay," cries Experience. "You can't get away with it!" shouts the Law. And now comes "Love's Whirlpool," now showing at Columbia Theatre, which shows that those whose transgressions are many cannot escape the indictment of remorse and the penalty of conscience, even though they may evade the law. Jim Reagan (James Kirkwood) was a master craftsman, and his sweetheart, Molly (Lila Lee) was a hardened crook, but conscience got them in the end.

PANTAGES THEATRE "The Shepherd King," which was filmed abroad by an American production company, is notable for its settings and spectacular grandeur. William Fox sent a company to Italy, Egypt and Palestine, under Director J. Gordon Edwards to secure the proper historical setting for the stage play by Wright Lorimer and Arnold Reeves. "The Shepherd King," with its spectacular love story set in the shadow of the Sphinx, scored a popular success on the stage. The photoplay far exceeds the original production in every way and is a realistic portrayal of the most famous romance in the world's history. Violet Mersereau, who will be remembered for her work in "Nero," plays the leading feminine role in "The Shepherd King," which is now showing at the Pantages Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE The perfect flapper has captured Victoria! Last night the Capitol Theatre was the scene of another victory for the modern flapper, of which we hear so much these days. The cause is Colleen Moore and the weapon she uses is "The Perfect Flapper," a First National picture. It was also directed by John Francis Dillon—combinations that made "Flaming Youth" the sensation of the past season. Colleen proves conclusively that she is the rightful holder of the crown. She has been given a cast and production that will go down as one nearing perfection. To say that "The Perfect Flapper" has "everything" is to say only a part of it. The picture is full of comedy and pathos, stunning gowns and daring, thrilling escapes and spectacular scenes, flawless direction and beautiful photography.

DOMINION THEATRE "Wanderer of the Wasteland," a Zane Grey Paramount production, directed by Irvin Willat and featuring Jack Holt, Kathlyn Williams, Noah Beery and Billie Dove, now showing at the Dominion Theatre. You've heard about the wonderful colorful photography in Cecil B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments?" Well, this one's done entirely in color. There's not a black and white sequence throughout the length of the film. Think of it! Even if it weren't for the great story it really is, you should go and see this picture just for the novelty of the thing. Remember, it's the very first really practical all-color production to be shown on the screen anywhere. But it's more than just a novelty — much more. It's Zane Grey's greatest story brought to life. They say you can even see the different shades of sunburn on the players!

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Florence Dixon who, in company with a galaxy of stars, shines brilliantly in "Women Men Marry," Edward Dillon's epoch-making photo production, now showing at the Playhouse Theatre, says that working under Mr. Dillon in this remarkable picture has given her an entirely new slant on the masculine portion of the world. Miss Dixon, who has not as yet taken unto herself a husband, thinks that marriage is a wonderful thing, and yet so dangerous that she fears she will never muster up courage to take the fatal step.

An ancient Indian saddle of rawhide figures largely in scenes for "The Covered Wagon," James Cruze's Paramount production, which will be shown at the Royal Victoria Theatre week of August 11, with two performances each day at 2:30 and 8:30 o'clock. It is the saddle of the redskins of years gone by and is probably seventy-five years old. The picture is filled with similar old-time relics, including the famous Brigham Young buffalo skull on which the Mormon leader painted a message to those who followed and left by the roadside along the wilderness trail in 1847. Old furniture, dug up from many sources, and which came across the plains in 1848, is shown in great variety.

MRS. COFFMAN ILL SEVEN YEARS

Saved from an Operation by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sidell, Ill.—"I was a nervous wreck. I was suffering from a pain in my left side, which was almost unbearable, and I could not even let the bed clothing rest on my body at night. I had been sick for seven years, but not so bad until the last eighteen months, and had become so run-down that I cared for nobody, and would rather have died than live. I couldn't do my work without help, and the doctors told me that an operation was all there was left. I would not consent to that, so my husband brought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begged me to take it. I have taken fourteen bottles of it and I feel ten years younger. Life is full of hope. I do all my housework and had a large garden this year. I never will be without the Vegetable Compound in the house, and when my two little girls reach womanhood I intend to teach them to take it. I am never too busy to tell some suffering sister of my help, and you can use my name and letter to spread the good news of Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines."—Mrs. IDA M. COFFMAN, R. R. 2, Sidell, Ill.

REPORT STATES DRIFT SHOWS NATIVE SILVER

Lakeview Mines, Ltd., Reports Striking Rich Ore at 100 Foot Depth —Ore Improves Steadily

The directors of the Lakeview (Stewart, B.C.) Mines, Ltd., have received word from their manager to the effect that the face of drift shows native silver.

Engineer R. F. Hill, in charge of the company's operations, has met with splendid results to date. His first report on inspection of the mine indicated that in his opinion the No. 1 tunnel run in by Messrs. Fetter and Welch in 1920 had cut the vein in a fault. As soon as the snow had cleared sufficiently to inspect the surface he was confirmed in his view, and starting to drift N.W. in 4½ feet he encountered 15 inches of solid ore; within a few feet this had increased to 27 inches, which ran $25.00 per ton in gold and silver. Last week's report gave 34 inches of solid ore, which in Mr. Hill's opinion, would assay higher and 75 pounds of which, as a fair sample, he was forwarding to the office.

Yesterday a further wire advised that the ore was steadily improving and showing native silver. This is encouraging news, when it is realized that the engineer is driving on the N.W. lead to reach a point where the large N.S. lead intersects. It is at the junction of these two veins that high grade ore was expected to be found.

NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

Tennis Is Good and Surprises Are Few

Leading Players Come Through Successfully—Westwood, of Vancouver, Rather Unexpectedly Defeated—Brilliant Tennis Weather Enables Fine Progress to Be Made With Provincial Tournament

THE tennis tournament, in which the British Columbia championships are at stake, made great progress yesterday, under ideal weather conditions at the Willows courts, which were filled continuously from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. with matches of excellent merit. The grounds presented an animated appearance, and the stands and seats were crowded with an enthusiastic and appreciative gallery.

One of the first upsets of the tournament came when V. Westwood, of the Jericho Club, Vancouver, was defeated by R. Stevens, of Tacoma. Westwood had just played a very excellent game in the mixed doubles and apparently could not get going in the singles. This is not to detract in any way from the game played by Stevens, who was playing splendidly throughout.

All in Action

Miss Suhr, Miss Thorne and Mrs. Henry, all of California, were in action during the day, but were not extended in any of their matches.

Mrs. Hickes, of Cowichan, defeated Miss Helen Tatlow, of Vancouver, in a strenuous three-set match, which appeared to be anybody's game until the winning shot. Both were playing an aggressive, hard-hitting game. Mrs. Hickes is showing considerable improvement since her visit to the South.

Miss Brunn, a sprightly young lady, also from the sunny South, the junior Pacific Coast girls' champion for under sixteen, and runner-up for the Pacific Coast junior girls under nineteen, met defeat at the hands of Mrs. Christmas, of Duncan, after a grueling contest of three sets. Miss Munroe and Miss Gillespie, of Vancouver, who reached the finals in the Mainland championship last week, defeated Miss Fitzgerald and Mrs. Curtis-Hayward, of Duncan, after three sets of hard tennis, in which the going was anything but easy for the victors.

Mrs. Wall, partnered with C. H. O'Halloran, of the Kingston Street Club, defeated Mr. and Mrs. List, also of Kingston Street, in an interesting three-set match. Several other mixed doubles took three sets to determine. Miss Munroe and McLean, of Vancouver, and Miss Gillespie and Sparling, also of the Mainland, were successful. Miss Mary Campbell and Collison managed to pull off a win against Miss Peggy Hodgins and Huntingdon, but were forced to three hard sets before success crowned their efforts.

Hard-Fought Doubles

Possibly the most interesting match of the day was the ladies' doubles in which Miss Lawson, of Victoria, and Mrs. Hickes, of Cowichan, defeated Miss Macdonald, of Toronto, and Mrs. Verley, of Victoria. Many long rallies featured the game.

KINGSTON ST. TENNIS

Challenge cups and prizes won at the annual handicap tournament of the Kingston Street Lawn Tennis Club will be presented this afternoon. The next tournament to be held by the club will be the open clay court championships of Victoria, which take place from August 16 to 23.

but steadiness of the winners was the deciding factor.

The longest match of the day was the men's singles between Eric McCallum and Hiberly, of Tacoma. McCallum took the first set 6-6. His service and net work were the deciding factors in this set.

In the second set, McCallum had a lead of 3-0 and 4-2, but he was unable to cope with the fine back court game Hiberly was putting up, the latter's passing shots in particular being splendid.

McCallum went to point and match in this set but was unable to pull it out and Hiberly won 8-6. The third set was a marathon, with each man winning his service game up to 12 all. Hiberly finally broke through and won 14-12, after many long and brilliant rallies.

Umps Chosen for Baseball Play-Offs

W. J. McCabe and Bert Murray, both of Vancouver, will be the umpires at the baseball game here next Saturday afternoon between the C.P.R. and Courtenay, for the Island championship. Considerable argument in past years over the decisions of the officials handling the games, has caused the British Columbia Amateur Baseball Association to get outsiders to handle the games, and the selection of neutral men should give no further chances for any disputes. "Allie" McGregor, the locals' arbiter, will journey to Vancouver to take charge of the play-off games there.

Tilden and Weiner Win at Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, July 29.—William T. Tilden, national tennis champion, and his youthful protege, Sandy Weiner, both of Philadelphia, brought a brilliant climax to the second day's play in the Southern California championship tennis tournament when they defeated Vic Dixon and Paul Greene, Los Angeles players, 6-1, 6-6, in the second round of the men's doubles competition.

Alfred Chapin, of Boston, defeated C. A. Baker, Los Angeles, 6-0, 6-3, in the men's singles, and Tilden beat Bradshaw Harrison, of San Francisco, 6-2, 6-1, in a similar match.

Racegoers Flocking From Near and Far

Big Attendance Expected at Willows, Where Meet Opens Today—Large Numbers Coming Over From Mainland, While Contingent From Neighboring States Will Be Strong and Numerous—Track in Good Shape

STANDING room only, promises to be the sign at the Willows on and after today, the army of turfgoers who have been in attendance at the twenty-one days of Vancouver racing having most generally expressed their intention of visiting the Capital. The number of automobiles which bear United States licence plates attest in no small measure the immense popularity with which racing has been held in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and California, which states are by adverse legislation debarred from holding race meetings at which speculation may be legitimately indulged in.

The amount of money that is by the above means brought into British Columbia is incalculable, and all business classes of the community, it is claimed, reap benefits, possibly the hotels, boarding houses and restaurants being the greater profit sharers, but with the feed man, who supplies the enormous daily quantity of hay, oats, straw and such equine luxuries as carrots, a very large portion of the owners' savings or earnings are necessarily expended. The shoesmith and veterinarian also exact their toll.

Many Horses Coming

Every steamer from the Mainland will bring over horses, and the parade of the same to their Willows quarters has attracted much attention, and visitors who had contemplated curtailing their visit have become so interested that they have declared their intention of staying over to see them run.

The Willows track was never in better condition, and it is confidently expected that most of the existing records will be broken. The conditions for the first four days' races were distributed this morning, and on the opening day there are no less than four of the seven events at distances of a mile or over, which will afford a large majority of the favorite long-distance horses an opportunity to start.

The Sportlight by Grantland Rice

Under Their Skins

Around the Nineteenth Hole there sat
A group of golfers, lean and fat;
And some were short—and some were tall—
And some were big and some were small;
And some were thin—and some were thick—
And some were well—and some were sick;
In fact, I lamped there each degree
Of human kind that one might see.

But, as I started out to say
In this here so-called roundelay,
While all of them were different
In muscular and mental bent,
In brain and brawn and other tripe
That all make up the human type.
Each John and Bob and Tom and Mike
In one respect were all alike.

For, while they raved around the bowl
Which decorates the Nineteenth Hole,
Each bloke admitted, sorely struck,
He'd never had such Rotten Luck.
And each confessed, amid the frame,
That he was Badly Off His Game;
And each one swore that from his score
He should have knocked eight strokes or more.

The more money boxers get, the fewer chances they are willing to take. In the main, they become tired and cagey businessmen, whose main idea is to save jaw and hand for the next rich harvest later on. It's the old chant known as "The more we get the less we give." We have seen a full share of high-priced boxers this season who merely loafed through some engagement in a highly bored fashion, a bit annoyed at being forced to take any unnecessary exercise.

Great Britain Defeated by Four Matches to One—Winners Meet Czecho-Slovaks in Final

MANCHESTER, July 29.—The fourth cricket test match between England and South Africa was abandoned this afternoon, no play having been possible since Saturday on account of heavy rains. When play was stopped the South Africans had scored 116 runs for four wickets.

England won the first three test matches.

ROMERO BEAT WEINERT

NEWARK, N.J., July 29.—Quintin Romero, of Chile, today enjoys undiminished prestige in heavyweight circles in view of his victory over Charley Weinert, of this city, in their 12-round bout. Romero piled up an impressive total of points in the early rounds, which Weinert, in spite of marked improvement toward the close, was unable to surpass.

SALVORS INVADE RUPERT REGION

Vancouver Salvage Firm Has Established Station at Prince Rupert—Build New Tug at Paisley, Scotland

THREE VESSELS DUE TO DOCK AT EARLY HOURS

Philoctetes and Arabia Maru Inbound From Orient——Canadian Rover Due From South—Niagara to Sail

A salvage station has been established at Prince Rupert by the Vancouver Dredging and Salvage Company, Limited, of Vancouver, and a new salvage tug, 185 feet long, capable of developing seventeen knots an hour from 3,000 horsepower engines, is now being built at Paisley, Scotland, for service in the northern area.

The power tugboat Diggs, Captain P. F. McManus, fitted with a twenty-horsepower Albion Steeple compound engine, has been acquired by the company for the Prince Rupert station until such time as the new craft is ready for service.

Captain McManus has been designated manager of the Vancouver firm's new depot, the exact location of which is at Cow Bay. He has been given an extensive equipment, including two ten-inch pumps, two eight-inch pumps, three six-inch pumps and two four-inch pumps, together with hose, drums, derricks and all the accessories which go to make up a modern salvage station.

The Pacific Salvage Company of Victoria is amalgamated with the Vancouver Dredging and Salvage Company, Limited, of Vancouver.

Three Ships Inbound

The Blue Funnel liner Philoctetes and the Osaka Shosen Kaisha liner Arabia Maru will both reach William Head from the Orient at an early hour this morning, within an hour of each other, and the C. G. M. M. vessel Canadian Rover is due at Ogden Point from California with a light cargo at 7 o'clock.

The first of the duo from the Orient to arrive will be the Philoctetes. She has wirelessed 4 o'clock as her time of arrival at the quarantine station. She will discharge about fifty tons of cargo when she docks at the Rithet piers.

The Arabia is due an hour later at William Head, according to a wireless message from her captain yesterday. She will discharge 100 tons of cargo at the Rithet piers before following the Blue Funnel liner up to Seattle.

Niagara Outbound

The Canadian Australian liner Niagara is scheduled to leave Vancouver at noon today for Victoria, outbound for the Antipodes. She is expected to dock here about 6 o'clock, and will likely clear for the southern seas a little later after picking up passengers and mail and a small consignment of local cargo.

Traveler Arrives

Bringing a thousand bags of sugar for discharge at Ogden Points, the C. G. M. M. vessel Canadian Traveler docked from Australia via Suva at noon yesterday. She sailed for Vancouver at 3 o'clock.

Toyama Maru Docks

The fast Nippon Yusen Kaisha freighter Toyama Maru docked from Yokohama at the Rithet piers at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. After discharging 100 tons of cargo she sailed for Seattle at 9 o'clock last night. She carried four Japanese passengers bound for the United States.

Grant Out Tomorrow

The Admiral Oriental liner President Grant is due to sail for the Orient from the Ogden Point piers at about 5:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon after picking up local cargo, passengers and mails.

May Dock Friday

If all goes well with the President Madison and she continues to cleave the Pacific's waves at her present gait, she will make William Head late Friday night instead of on Sunday morning, her scheduled hour of arrival. Captain "Fairweather" Quinn is enjoying his usual good fortune as far as weather conditions are concerned, and expects to break the Madison's former record for the voyage from Yokohama breakwater to William Head.

The Madison has one hundred and thirty tons of cargo for discharge here. Several cabin passengers and a number of steerage passengers will come ashore at Ogden Point.

Brookdale Loading

When the Brookdale clears from the Canadian Puget Sound Lumber Company's wharf for San Pedro today she will take out one of the largest cargos ever crammed into her holds and piled upon her decks. The 150,000 feet of lumber she is loading here will bring her cargo of that commodity up to 1,500,000 feet. In addition she has a big consignment of wheat and oats in her holds.

Tenders by August 5

Tenders are invited for the new eight-mile extension on the C. N. R. from Deerholme to Cowichan Bay. They will be received until noon on August 5. Plans may be seen and a form of contract obtained at the Government Street office of the C. N. R.

In New Quarters

The headquarters staff of the B. C. Coast Service of the Canadian Pacific Railway is now comfortably installed in the new quarters provided on the second floor of the recently opened terminal building on Belleville Street.

The time used is Pacific Standard, for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish High Water from Low Water. Where blanks occur in the tables the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The Height is in feet and tenths of a foot above the average level of lower Low Water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the drydock at any time, add 18.6 feet to the height of High Water as above given.

Shipbuilding and Fur Trade Born at Nootka

Province's Earliest Industrial Activity Was at One Time Centred at Historic Spot Whose Discovery Will Be Commemorated Soon by Erection of Tablet—Famous for Marvellous Exploits of Captain Meares

By E. M. YOUNG

As it is understood that the proposed tablet commemorating the discovery of Nootka is to be erected next month, it may be worth while recalling the incidents which led up to the signing of the historic treaty.

On a memorable day in April, 1778, there sailed into the then unknown Nootka Sound two famous British ships, the Resolution and Discovery. Among the officers of this historic expedition were three men who have since become enrolled in the shining roster of great British seamen and explorers.

The leader, Captain James Cook, was nearing the end of his glorious career. George Vancouver, who was then one of his midshipmen, had still to make his mark and leave his name indelibly impressed upon the map of British Columbia. William Bligh, sailing master of the Resolution, had not then gone through the thrilling experience of the famous mutiny of the Bounty, to become thirty years later Vice-Admiral of the fleet.

Nootka Sound, which is thus associated with these imperishable names, extends about ten miles inland, and embraces several islands of which the largest is Nootka. Here was confirmed the famous convention of 1790 by Vancouver on the part of Great Britain, and Quadra on that of Spain—a convention which then virtually settled the ownership of the coast of British Columbia.

For Spain at that time claimed not only the then discovered coasts and seas of Northwest America, but everything within or out of sight. But already its vast colonial and maritime power was beginning to crumble before the growing might of Great Britain. At the time of the "Nootka affair it only required the demonstration of a large British fleet to bring the Spanish Government to reason.

Still, several Spanish navigators undoubtedly visited various parts of the northwest coast of America a couple of centuries before the advent of Cook. But the British navigator achieved more important results and made more accurate surveys in one voyage than the Spaniards did in all their various trips to these parts.

So accurate, indeed, were the surveys and observations of Cook, especially considering the imperfect instruments of the day, that they are now generally accepted as authoritative, although they were extended in the later voyages of Captain Vancouver.

Cook reached the northwest coast of America, christening various parts of the coast, such as Perpetua, Gregory, Foulweather and Flattery. Cook's ships were then, however, driven by bad weather a considerable distance from the coast, so that be failed to locate Juan de Fuca Strait.

Sailing north in search of a suitable harbor, Cook's weather-beaten vessels arrived at last at Nootka Sound. This was at first named King George Sound in honor of the then reigning British sovereign.

Hearing, however, much talk among the Indians of "Nootk-sitl," which means to "go around," he renamed it "Nootka," which certainly has a more euphonious sound. These natives he found were friendly, but thievish and grasping.

They might be considered, perhaps, the original grafters of British Columbia. They even demanded payment for the fresh water and timber required for the ships, and constant vigilance was required to restrain their thieving propensities.

Still, great trade was done with the Nootka natives in furs of the bear, deer, wolf, fox, polecat and sea-otter, which were exchanged for brass, iron and other articles. This, indeed, was the genesis of the fur trade of Vancouver Island and British Columbia, and fur was the magnet which attracted Meares and other British traders in later years.

This John Meares formed a company in 1786 at Calcutta for opening and developing the fur trade with Northwest America. In a sloop of 200 tons named Nootka he sailed for the North American coast, and appears to have done a flourishing trade at Nootka and Prince William Sound, returning to Canton, where the Chinese were eager buyers of furs.

In 1789, Meares sent a couple of ships named the Princess May and Argonaut to join the Iphegenia, already at Nootka, in further quest of the lucrative skins. Trade then became so brisk that he erected a storehouse upon which was hoisted the British flag.

Captain Meares also purchased from the Indian chiefs a large tract of land in the vicinity of Friendly Cove. Having even then an inkling of coming Spanish trouble, he built a wooden fortress, from whose battlements frowned a solitary obsolete cannon. This was probably intended more as a bluff, because it did not apparently succeed in doing any harm to the Spanish invaders who now appeared on the scene.

Early in the year 1789 two Spanish frigates entered Nootka Sound, seized first the Iphegenia and subsequently the Argonaut and Princess May. Meares escaped, but his men on board the ships and on shore were incontinently taken prisoners.

The Spaniards at once set about a permanent occupation, erecting substantial barracks and a battery of sixteen guns on the island, commanding the entrance to the Sound. They claimed prior discovery to that of Cook's in 1778.

They contended that the Spanish frigate Santiago, commanded by Juan Perez, sailing from San Blas in 1774, had achored in Nootka Sound and named it Port San Lorenzo. His claim, however, was disproved, the frigate never having been nearer Nootka Sound than Estevan Point on its voyage from the north.

Having miraculously escaped, Captain Meares proceeded to England. Arrived there in 1790, he petitioned the British Government for satisfaction and restitution from Spain. An imposing British fleet under Admiral Lord Howe was mobilized to enforce the demands and Spain soon capitulated.

The same year a treaty was signed between the two countries by which Spain agreed to restore the disputed territory to Great Britain. But it was not until 1792 that Captain George Vancouver was appointed by the British Government "to receive back in form the territory which the Spaniards had seized."

Vancouver's commission also included instructions to make a survey of the coast from the 30th degree northwards and to ascertain if there was a navigable northwest passage.

In the Summer of 1792, Vancouver arrived in Nootka Sound, and in August took place his memorable meeting with Quadra. This able Spanish seaman was also a cultured and courteous man, and the two rival navigators formed a friendship which lasted until Vancouver's premature death.

It is hardly necessary here to recapitulate the terms of the agreement made between the representatives of the two countries which had so long disputed the dominion of the seas. Some delay occurred in carrying out the conditions of the treaty, and it was not until 1795 that the Spaniards finally evacuated the Nootka territory.

Soon after the completion of this treaty there began an immense development in the fur trade of the northwest coast of America. From the puissant British Isles, the still young fledged States and from proud but decadent Espava, came numerous adventurers in quest of the fur-bearing denizens of sea and land.

Rapid fortunes were made, but many goodly ships and precious lives were lost on strange waters and stranger lands. Of the toll of lives forfeited by the lure of fur but little will ever be known. Sudden storm, uncharted rocks and hidden reefs were not the least of the perils which ever lay in wait for the mariners in the North Pacific waters.

While the fur trade of the Northwest received its first great impetus from Nootka, that famous spot has also the distinction of having seen the first ship built on the coast of British Columbia. In September, 1788 was launched a small schooner, built under the directions of Captain Meares and named the Northwest America.

This Made-in-Canada ship sailed on several trading voyages to the northwest coast and the Sandwich Islands. Subsequently it was seized as a prize by the Spaniards, who employed it on trading expeditions. Its ultimate fate appears to be unknown.

Not far from Nootka was built the second vessel of which the Province can boast. This was the Adventure, a sloop which was launched at Clayoquot in 1792, and which made several trading voyages around Vancouver Island and on the northwest coast. Mainly engaged in the fur trade, the Adventure voyaged as far north as the Alaskan coast, in the region of Sitka.

Such were the conditions for many years before and following the signing of the famous Nootka Treaty, when the mariners bold of Britain and Spain were charting the way, seeking the elusive sea-otter or bartering with the natives old iron for new fur.

SYDNEY, N.S., July 29.—From Sydney to Rome in a 15-foot canoe is the avowed ambition of G. H. G. State Insurance Chiefs To Visit Here Saturday

SEATTLE, July 29.—Growth of the automobile industry and the increase in the number of traffic accidents, formed the basis of a paper on "Compulsory Liability for Motor Vehicles," read by Wesley E. Monk at the afternoon session of the annual Summer meeting of the National Association of State Insurance Commissioners which opened here on Monday. The convention will close on Saturday in Victoria, B.C., with the British Columbia insurance men acting as hosts.

RISING MARKET CLOSES IRREGULAR

General Recessions From High Levels Follows Impressive Upward Trend at New York

NEW YORK, July 29.—Stock prices moved upward today in impressive fashion until just before the close of the market, when heavy profit taking, partly based on the fear that the extra dividend of 50 cents on United States Steel common might not be maintained, caused a rather general recession from the high levels, giving final quotations an irregular appearance.

Directors of the United States Steel Corporation, meeting after the market closed, declared an extra dividend of 50 cents for the third successive quarter in addition to the regular dividend of $1.25 on the common, and reported total earnings of $41,381,039, or about $6,000,000 above earlier estimates of conservative observers.

Chairman Gary also predicted good business this Fall and reported "considerable improvement" in orders received July 1.

U.S. Steel New High

United States Steel common touched 104⅝, new high on the current movement, in the early afternoon, and then reacted to 103¼ for a net loss of ⅜ on the day.

All the independent steels also closed fractionally lower.

Some irregularity developed at the opening, but within fifteen minutes, rails, public utilities and industrials were moving upward almost in unison. Trading became more active as the session progressed, the day's sales exceeding one and a quarter million shares, making it one of the most active sessions this year.

Increased public interest in the market is indicated by the fact that brokers' loans have increased about $50,000,000 in the last two weeks, bringing the total to around $1,330,000,000.

Another flock of new high records were established during the session.

Call Money

Call money continued to hold at 2 per cent. The volume of time funds being placed showed decided gain rates changing from 2½ to 3 per cent, depending upon maturity. Commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges were slightly firmer, although trading was restricted pending further developments at the London conference of reparations.

Establishment of new high prices for the year by most of the active United States Government obligations was the outstanding feature of today's bond market, which was given an irregular appearance by contrasting price movements.

Accumulation of Liberty bonds, based on the easier tone of time money and revived expectations of another cut in the Federal reserve rediscount rate carried the 4¼ issues to 1924 top prices.

Foreign government obligations registered substantial improvement on more hopeful advices regarding a reparations settlement and the ending of the revolution in Brazil. Gains of a point or more were recorded by Belgian 7½'s and several French municipal issues. Brazilian bonds moved up one to almost three points.

PRICES SLIDE DOWN UNDER THE PRESSURE

Wheat Market at Winnipeg Begins to Show Heaviness on Good Rains in West—Heavy Selling

WINNIPEG, July 29.—After opening today about 1 cent higher on unexpectedly strong cables, the wheat market quickly began to show heaviness on good rains in the West.

There was then very heavy selling, and although the offerings appeared to be well taken and each decline stubbornly contested, prices gradually slipped downwards under the pressure. July closed 3⅞ cents lower, October 2⅝ cents lower, December 2⅝ cents lower and May 2⅝ cents down.

Heavy rains in all three provinces were reported, even the dry areas of Alberta and Saskatchewan receiving good showers.

Some reports now predict that the Prairie Provinces will produce a crop of about 390,000,000 bushels.

The coarse grains were all affected by the break in wheat, oats declining about 1⅛ cents for both July and October, and barley dropping 5⅜ cents to 3 cents.

WHEAT REACTIONARY ON CHICAGO MARKET

Strong Cash Position in Corn Influences All Deliveries—Strong Corn Market Expected Tomorrow

CHICAGO, July 29.—The strong cash position in corn influenced all deliveries today and the demand from the short interest was insistent from the start. It would appear at the close today that holders of July corn are in a very strong position, and it would not be surprising to see a very strong market in corn tomorrow and possibly Thursday. Today's close was near the top prices for this movement.

Wheat was reactionary all through the session, contrasting strongly with the action of corn futures. The cash position in wheat is not strong, consequently there was no anxiety felt among the shorts.

The elimination of the short interest in nearby corn deliveries would weaken the grain markets considerably and probably bring about a good recession after Thursday.

TRADE NEGOTIATIONS TAKE PLACE SHORTLY

Reciprocal Trade Relations Between Australia, Canada, New Zealand and South Africa Mooted

SYDNEY, Australia, July 29.—Negotiations will shortly proceed with a view to Australia obtaining reciprocal trade with Canada, New Zealand and South Africa, Austin Chapman, federal minister of trade and commerce, announced today. Mr. Chapman referred to a section of the customs regulations dealing with British goods, and declared that the Anti-Dumping Act was essential to Australia's protective policy.

OTTAWA, July 29.—Negotiations for a reciprocal trade treaty between Australia and Canada have been on the books for a couple of years. Hon. J. A. Robb, at the time Minister of Trade, paid a visit to Australia to negotiate; there were further discussions during the Imperial conference last year, and subsequently Senator Wilson, of Australia, visited Ottawa to confer with the Dominion Government. Canada's original purpose was an exchange of preferences, but Australia could not see her way to full acceptance.

During the Imperial conference there were conversations between General Smuts, then premier of South Africa, and Canadian representatives at the Imperial conference with a view to a trade agreement between Canada and South Africa.

PRESERVING PEACHES APPEAR ON MARKET

Wholesale Row Receives Carload of Elberta Peaches From California—Tomatoes Soar in Price

Preserving kettles and jam jars will probably be to the fore again during the next few days following the arrival yesterday of a carload of fine Elberta preserving peaches from California. They are being sold along Wholesale Row at $1.50 a box.

Because of the gradual depletion of supplies from hothouses and the scarcity, so far, of the varieties grown in the open air, tomatoes have soared in price until today they are being quoted at $5.75 a box for No. 1's and $5.25 for No. 2's. The price of each grade has risen $1.75 during the last two days.

A carload of grapefruit arrived from California yesterday and was placed on sale at $5.50 per case. Shipments of Malaga grapes at $4.50 a box and Wenatchee plums at $2.50 a box made their appearance on Wholesale Row yesterday, as did also a consignment of Idaho comb honey at $7.00 a case.

Championship Scrap Takes Place Tonight

Joe Bayley and Billy Allen Are Fighting at Drill Hall for Lightweight Title of Canada—Each in Good Shape for Real Battle—Five Good Preliminaries Also on the Programme for the Evening

JOE Bayley, keyed up to championship pitch, and ready to fight at the drop of the hat with anyone who connects his name with those who have passed into the records, will be out tonight in his clash with Billy Allen, the owner of the lightweight belt, to win on a knockout. Joe is firmly convinced that he has a future, and is out for such a decisive victory tonight at the Drill Hall, that those contracts pending on the decision will be offered for his John Hancock, and he can rake in some of the shekels that the boxfighters are piling up these days. There is not the slightest doubt that Joe will open up in the first round in his familiar slashing style, and take the fight to the Ottawa boy every second of every round.

He Likes It

And if you listen to Allen's supporters, that is the fight he likes. Allen has a guard that has baffled such experts as Abe Attell, Joe Mandot and a lot of the wise boys. He has never been out of condition since he first entered the fight game, and is one of those clean living boys that can step into the ring and do ten rounds or more any time he is called upon. The hardy Bayley's style of fighting is not worrying him at all. He has too much ring generalship to be rushed off his feet, so all the forecasts of a swift, hard-hitting ten-round exhibition look like being realized.

The preliminary card is a good one. But for the fact that the two men figuring in the main bout are arguing for the championship, a good headliner could be selected for the four-rounders.

Active Heavyweights

There is one outstanding bout that is sure to draw. J. A. McAllister and Fred Snelling are due to mix it again. These two big transfer men, who juggled pianos around for a hobby, stepped into the ring as unknowns last time they appeared, and had the house on its toes with excitement. They handed out as much punishment to one another in the first two rounds as most men do in ten. Tottering, and on the verge of a knockout as a result of the hefty way they mixed it, they came back after a breather thirsting for more. Although they are the best of pals outside a ring, it is a long standing argument as to who is the best fighter, and when they step into the circle with the gloves on, everything takes on the aspect of a grudge fight. Snelling lost last time, his defeat being assisted by a cut on the eye which spoiled his vision. No loser, however, ever got so great a hand in a Victoria ring. When the two shook hands when the fight was over, they got a reception like a prima donna.

A High Standard

Promoter Billy Davies is confident that tonight's card will come up to the standard of the last show, which greatly pleased the fans, and, as the prices of admission are very reasonable, he expects that the contests will be witnessed by the record crowd of fans. The officials for the contest will be as follows: Referees, Al Davies and Scotty McKay; Timekeeper, Lennie Oliver; announcer, W. H. Davies; Physician, Dr. Grant. The complete programme and order of events are as follows:

Dustweights, three rounds—F. Holman, Duncan, vs. Clarence Leask, Victoria.

Bantamweights, three rounds—Dave Lewis, Victoria, vs. Danny Paecoe, Victoria.

Featherweights, three rounds—Best, Duncan, vs. Len Woodley, Victoria.

Welterweights, three rounds—Henry Behnsen, Victoria, vs. Alf. Best, Duncan.

Heavyweights, three rounds—J. A. McAllister, Victoria, vs. Fred Snelling, Victoria.

Main event, ten rounds, for lightweight championship of Canada—Joe Bayley, Victoria, vs. Billy Allen, Ottawa.

JOE BAYLEY
Claimant of the Canadian lightweight title, who will meet Billy Allen tonight at the Drill Hall.

SEABRIGHT TENNIS

Defeat of Clarence Griffin Is Only Surprise—Four Californians Are Still Unbeaten

SEABRIGHT, N.J., July 29.—As the Seabright invitation tennis tournament narrowed down to eight survivors in the men's singles today, there was only one mild surprise, the defeat of Clarence J. Griffin, of San Francisco, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4.

The close of the second day's play found four Californians still unbeaten—William M. Johnston, Harvey Snodgrass, Howard Kinsey and Walter Wesbrook. Lucien Williams, of Chicago; Nat. Niels, of Boston; Dean Mathey, of Cranford, N.J., and Alex. D. Thayer, of Philadelphia, are the other four survivors. Thayer advanced through the default of Robert Kinsey, San Francisco, whose injured shoulder bothered him considerably.

Johnston was extended by Jack Wright, of the Canada Davis Cup team, to win 8-6, 7-5, but easily proved his superiority at important stages. Johnston took three games in short order in the first set after Wright had earned a lead of 6-5 by brilliant court covering.

Lucien Williams, former intercollegiate champion, eliminated Willard Crocker, the second of the Canadian internationalists, by scores of 1-6, 6-1, 7-5.

CANADIAN OLYMPIC TEAM HAD TROUBLE

Athletes Said to Have Spent Nights in Police Station When Stranded by Lack of Funds

TORONTO, July 29.—All was not well with the Canadian Olympic team at Paris, declared "Tony" Vince, Toronto sprinter, who returned home today. Vince, who said he intends to race opposite Cyril Coaffee, the Winnipeg sprinter, in an exhibition event here this Fall, said the trip to Paris proved to be a "long battle between Trainer Hughes and Coach Cornelius."

Vince asserted to The Telegram that Coach Cornelius issued instructions for no one to take a rub down without seeing the head coach. This resulted in the break that caused many close moments in the training headquarters.

The other countries had huts right at the stadium with their own cooks and all personal attention. The Canadian team used two hotels in Paris, ate strange food and mounted up a huge taxi bill traveling to and from the stadium, Vince said.

Many Canadian athletes that could not stand the "pull" were nearly left stranded on a London station platform as Coach Cornelius and the "picks" took a special trip to Scotland, Vince said. The boys, having little money, spent a few nights in a friendly police station for protection, where they finally arranged their transportation home.

PORT ARTHUR SCENTS FOOTBALL SCANDAL

Hinted That Expert Player of That Town Went to Winnipeg to Help United Westons

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., July 29.—It is reported here that inquiries are being made by certain interested parties concerning the departure from Winnipeg shortly before the Connaught Cup football games in that city of one of the most capable players on the Port Arthur team, and that the result may be a protest by the Canadian Explosives against the outcome of the series with United Westons.

All Eligible

WINNIPEG, July 29. — "Every member of the United Weston team of Winnipeg was fully eligible for the Connaught Cup series," declared John Easton, president of the Dominion Football Association, today, when shown a dispatch from Port Arthur intimating that players from that city had left for Winnipeg, ostensibly to assist Weston. Mr. Easton characterized the report as baseless and one that could only tend to arouse a spirit of ill-feeling and dissatisfaction.

Y.M.C.A. MEETS HILLCRESTS NINE

RIVAL TEAMS WILL CLASH IN PLAYOFF SERIES

Winners Meet Garrison for Clearihue Challenge Cup—Play Friday at Royal Athletic Park

With the second half of the Victoria and District Indoor Baseball schedule completed, the Y. M. C. A. and the Hillcrests are tied for the premier position. This tie will be broken by a series of three games, the winner of which will play the Garrison to decide which club will take possession of the Clearihue Challenge Cup for one year. Both clubs are playing good ball, and to pick a winner would be quite a difficult task. Each team has fallen by the wayside at the expense of their opponents. The Hillcrests were victorious in the first half of the schedule while things were reversed in the second half.

The first game in this series will be played at the Royal Athletic Park on Friday, commencing at 6:45 p.m. sharp, while the second game will be played at the Canteen Grounds on the following Monday.

MONTREAL GOLF PRO WINS CHAMPIONSHIP

A. H. Murray Takes the Title With Score of 144—Is Two Under Par on Afternoon Round

MONTREAL, July 29.—A. H. Murray, Country Club, Montreal, today won the professional golf championship of Canada over the Beaconsfield Club course with a score of 144 for the 36 holes.

Nicoll Thompson, Hamilton, and G. Cumming, Toronto, tied for second place with 146. Murray, who won the open championship in 1923, and was runner-up to his brother, C. R. Murray, in the provincial open tournament this year, had to play the finest brand of golf to win. In the morning he shot a 74, and was well down on the list, the leader being Redvers Mackenzie, Marlborough, with a fine 69.

In the afternoon Murray played a faultless game, being two under par. He missed a 69 when a difficult putt failed just to go down on the last green.

Mackenzie, who, after his morning round, was naturally the favorite, threw away his opportunity at the 16th and 17th greens. He took an eight on the former and six on the latter through putting his tee shots into the ditches and trying to play out instead of lifting from impossible lies.

Mr. Murray gets the cup given for the championship by P. D. Ross, Ottawa, and $500 donated by a local manufacturer, W. M. Stewart. He also gets the prize for the eighteen holes in the afternoon, the money for the best morning round going to Mr. Mackenzie.

MOORE AND BRITON DRAW

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 29. — Ted Moore, of England, and Billy Briton, of Columbus, fought a twelve-round draw here tonight.

GARDEN PARTY TODAY IN LOVELY SETTING

"Arran," the beautiful home of Judge and Mrs. McIntosh, York Place, is being thrown open again this afternoon to the public, on this occasion on behalf of the King's Daughters, who have organized a garden party and fete which, weather permitting, should lack no detail to make it one of the loveliest of the Summer's events of the kind. Mrs. Walter Nichol, wife of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, will at three o'clock perform the formal ceremony of declaring the affair open, and from that moment everything will be in full swing, the stalls ready for business, and the programme of Scottish dances and musical numbers interspersed between the distractions of visiting the many beauty spots of the gardens. Clock-golf has been arranged for, and visitors who enjoy this pastime are reminded to search out the spot and enter the competition.

OPEN-AIR CONCERT ATTRACTS BIG CROWD

Arion Club's Programme for Navy League of Canada Results in Collection of $153.28

A calm Summer evening, whose clear skies became gradually studded with stars, provided ideal conditions for the Arion Club's open-air concert in front of the Parliament Buildings last night. A big audience packed the immediately adjacent steps, stone balustrades and greensward, and an outer rim of listeners dotted about some of the vantage points just inside the tree-ringed auditorium, added still further to the numbers who enjoyed the delightfully sung selections. The recital on this occasion was in aid of the Navy League of Canada, whose claims were brought to the attention of the public earlier in the proceedings by the playing of the Victoria Sea Cadets' Band. In the absence of Bandmaster Rumsby, who is out of the city, the boys were conducted by Mr. P. A. Rayner, and gave a very creditable performance of patriotic and popular numbers. Members of the Women's Auxiliary and others assisted in the taking of the collection, which took place about half-way through the Arion Club's concert, the contributions amounting to $153.28.

Roster Reduced

Although singing with less than their usual Winter concert roster, the Arion Club produced excellent effects, particularly in the robuster type of song. Most striking of all their numbers was the "Archers' Marching Song," by Thayer, which suited the setting pictorially as well as acoustically, and commanded such applause that it was repeated. The ringing tempo of the basses and the soaring sweetness of the tenors were noticeably fine features of this number. Another great favorite was of similar type, "Cavaliers' Song," which was sung with wonderful spirit. The last three numbers on the programme also contain elements which make them admirable for open-air recital: Oley Speaks' "Sylvia," the familiar and poetic "Soldiers' Farewell," and the dignified Kremner "Prayer of Thanksgiving." These all won warm applause.

Other numbers given by the choir were Hatton's "When Evening's Twilight," "Has Sorrow Thy Young Day," "Dreaming," "On the Sea," and "The Silver Lanterns of Night."

Assisting the choir as soloist was Miss Beatrice Macdonald, the well-known young soprano, the appeal of whose singing was testified to when the audience called for two encores. Her first number was "Still as the Night," which displayed a big voice under excellent control, and as encores there were given Guy d'Hardelot's "The Dawn" and "Values."

Irish Ballad Pleases

Mr. George Guy's tenor is of a beautifully sweet quality, and his singing of the solo part of the Irish ballad, "Hath Sorrow Thy Young Days Shaded" gave much pleasure, although the number is rather too refined in choral dimension for performance out of doors.

In the absence from the city of Mr. Howard Russell the choir was conducted by Mr. Herbert Kent.

Mr. P. A. Rayner, secretary of the Victoria branch of the Navy League of Canada, gave a little address in the course of the evening, telling something of the work of the organization. He stated that through the Navy League 220 boys had gone from British Columbia to take up sea-faring careers. Of this number 73 went from Victoria. This year at least ten of these lads would take examinations for their second mate certificates. The Navy League had also been instrumental in forming the Sea Cadet band, giving them free tuition with the idea of building up the city's resources in musicians who could take their places in the civic bands.

The boys' band programme brought forward some youthful soloists, Jimmy Mossop, who, as first cornet, played the cornet solo in the overture "Magneta," and Stanley Cross, who played the bass solo in the selection "Moonbeams." They were warmly applauded. Popular march numbers played by the band were "Fort Gay," "Ironclad," "Co-Ed," and "Matinee."
